69 Albany Law Review 179, 181, 183 (February 2006) ..... 1

1 Plaintiff Harold P. Sturgeon, by counsel, respectfully submits this opposition to 2 Defendants' motion for summary judgment or, in the alternative, summary adjudication:

3 I. INTRODUCTION.

4 In 1979, the Los Angeles Police Department ("LAPD") adopted what essentially is a 5 "Don't Ask, Don't Tell" policy regarding illegal aliens. Commonly referred to as Special Order 6 40, the policy prohibits LAPD officers from initiating police action to discover a person's 7 immigration status. It prohibits officers from asking a person about his or her status, and it 8 prohibits officers from asking federal immigration officials about a person's status. It also 9 prohibits officers from making arrests for illegal entry, which is a violation of Title 8, Section 10 1325 of the United States Code. In practice, Special Order 40 also generally prohibits officers 11 from providing information about a person's immigration status to federal immigration officials.

12 In 1996, Congress enacted two separate statutes, 8 U.S.C. §§ 1373 and 1644, to address 13 policies such as Special Order 40. The obvious purpose of the statutes was to promote the free 14 flow of information between federal immigration officials and state and local law enforcement 15 agencies in order to assist federal authorities in enforcing immigration laws. As one 16 commentator has stated:

17 The assistance of state and local law enforcement agencies can also mean the 18 difference between success and failure in enforcing the nation's laws generally.
19 The nearly 800,000 police officers nationwide represent a massive force 20 multiplier. This assistance need only be occasional, passive, voluntary, and pursued during the course of normal law enforcement activity. The net that is cast daily by local law enforcement during routine encounters with members of the public is so immense that it is inevitable illegal aliens will be identified.

21 Kris W. Kobach, The Quintessential Force Multiplier: The Inherent Authority of Local Police to 22 Make Immigration Arrests, 69 Albany Law Review 179, 181 (February 2006). State and local 23 law enforcement officers are "the eyes and ears of law enforcement across the United States." Id.
24 at 183. "Federal immigration officers simply cannot cover the same ground." Id.

25 Plaintiff, a taxpayer and resident of the City of Los Angeles, brings this action pursuant to 26 Section 526a of the Code of Civil Procedure to enjoin the LAPD from expending any additional 27 taxpayer resources to enforce, maintain, or otherwise carry out the provisions of Special Order 40 28

1 and the practices and procedures arising thereunder.<sup>1</sup> Complaint at ¶¶ 1 at 41. Plaintiff's basic 2 contention is that the LAPD's "Don't Ask, Don't Tell" policy violates 8 U.S.C. §§ 1373 and 3 1644. Plaintiff also seeks a judgment declaring that Special Order 40 and the practices and 4 procedures arising thereunder are unlawful. Complaint at ¶¶ 1 and 38.

5 Because genuine disputes of material fact exist regarding the scope and contours of the 6 policy, both as to the meaning of the text of the policy and the manner in which the policy is 7 implemented by the LAPD, neither summary judgment nor summary adjudication is appropriate.
8 As a result, Defendants' motion must be denied.

9 II. SPECIAL ORDER 40 AND THE LAPD POLICIES, PROCEDURES, AND 10 PRACTICES ARISING THEREUNDER.

11 Prior to the adoption of Special Order 40 in 1979, it was not uncommon for LAPD 12 officers to make an inquiry or take action when they encountered a person whose immigration 13 status came into question. Plf's Resp. to Defs' Stmt. of Facts ("Plf's Resp.") at Add'l Mat. Fact 14 ("AMF") No. 1. In fact, the LAPD required officers who came into contact with a person 15 suspected of being in the United States illegally to determine the person's immigration status and 16 notify federal immigration authorities if the person was an illegal alien. Id. at AMF No. 2. Such 17 action was required even if the person was not the subject of a police investigation or a criminal 18 charge. Id. The adoption of Special Order 40 changed such practices. Id. at AMF No. 3.

19 Although Defendants assert that officers investigating an individual for criminal activity 20 are not prohibited by Special Order 40 from inquiring into the individual's immigration status, 21 Plaintiff disputes this.<sup>2</sup> Plf's Resp. at Fact No. 30. Specifically, LAPD Deputy Chief Police 22 Mark Perez testified, "Generally, yes . . . We are prohibited from inquiring about immigration 23 status." Perez Dep. at 18:18-20. Deputy Chief Perez "could not envision" an officer contacting

25 <sup>1</sup> Defendants make no claim that this matter is not appropriate for a taxpayer lawsuit or that 26 Plaintiff is not a taxpayer. See Blair v. Pitchess, 5 Cal. 3d 258 (1971); Code Civ. Pro. 526a.

27 <sup>2</sup> Defendants admit that, if an officer were to contact federal immigration officials for no 28 other reason than to inquire about a person's immigration status, he or she would be violating Special Order 40. Plf's Resp. at AMF No. 4.

1 federal immigration officials to inquire about a person's immigration status and, in his twenty-2 five years of experience, could not recall a single instance in which an LAPD officer had made 3 such an inquiry. Id. at 21:8-23. The single exception identified by Deputy Chief Perez was if an 4 officer encountered a previously deported, violent offender. Id. at 17:20-18:4, 22:16-24:23.

5 Assistant Chief Earl Paysinger had a slightly different view. Although, according to 6 Assistant Chief Paysinger, Special Order 40 does not prohibit officers from inquiring about a 7 person's immigration status if the person has been arrested or lawfully detained, in his thirty 8 years of experience with the LAPD, he has never known an officer to inquire about anyone's 9 immigration status. Paysinger Dep. at 28:4-7. Nor did he know of an officer ever contacting 10 federal immigration officials to inquire about a person's immigration status. Id. at 28:4-29:1.

11 Deputy Chief Gary Brennan had yet another view. He testified that officers are not 12 prohibited from inquiring about a person's immigration status, including asking federal 13 immigration officials about a person's status, if the officer is conducting a criminal investigation 14 and the person's immigration status becomes an issue in that investigation. Brennan Dep. at 15 20:4-11. He cited alien smuggling investigations and human trafficking investigations as two 16 examples of circumstances under which it may be appropriate for officers to inquire into a 17 person's immigration status. Id. at 18:12-19:9. He noted that, it "[w]ould be a very rare 18 occurrence" for an LAPD officer to make an inquiry to ICE about the immigration status of a 19 witness, victim, or member of the public." Id. at 30:17-23. "Generally it is not done." Id.
20 Deputy Chief Brennan also was very clear that officers were prohibited from contacting federal 21 immigration officials unrelated to a criminal investigation:

22 It is inconsistent with department policy for officers to contact ICE if it's 23 unrelated to a criminal investigation. It's inconsistent with department policy for 24 officers to contact ICE solely to determine a person's immigration status unrelated 25 to a criminal investigation.

26 Id. at 31:10-16.

27 Commander Sergio Diaz, now Deputy Chief Diaz, testified somewhat circularly that 28 officers could inquire about a person's immigration status "under all circumstances that aren't initiating a police action with the objective of discovering the alien status." Diaz Dep. at 35:22-

1 36:4. According to Deputy Chief Diaz, officers may inquire about a person's immigration status
2 "[i]f its not strictly prohibited." Id. at 39:10-11. Like Deputy Chief Brennan, Deputy Chief Diaz 3 testified that officers may make such inquiries if the officer is undertaking a criminal 4 investigation and the person's immigration status is germane to the investigation. Id. at 38:9-5 39:13. Like Deputy Chief Brennan, Deputy Chief Diaz also agreed that, without a "criminal 6 nexus," Special Order 40 prohibited initiating a police action to discover a person's immigration 7 status. Diaz Dep. at 15:15-21; see also id. at 37:6-13. Deputy Chief Diaz subsequently told the 8 Los Angeles City Council, however:

9       It would serve no benefit for us to ask folks what their immigration status is. In 10 fact, Special Order 40, as we said earlier, does two things -- and the first thing that 11 it does is strictly prohibit officers from initiating an investigation with the purpose 12 of inves -- of discovering someone's immigrant status.

13 June 12, 2007 Transcript at 22:24-23:5.

14       Police Chief Bratton appears to agree with Deputy Chief Perez. In a "Chief's Message," 15 published in June 2005 in an online LAPD newsletter, Chief Bratton stated that "LAPD officers 16 are still prohibited from asking a person their immigration status." "Chief's Message," The Beat, 17 June 20, 2005. He noted, however, that this prohibition does not apply to aliens who were 18 convicted of violent felonies or other serious crimes, were deported, and have since returned to 19 the United States. Id. During a March 1, 2007 radio interview, Chief Bratton similarly told 20 KABC radio host Doug McIntyre:

21       There's a great deal of misunderstanding about what happens here as it relates to 22 immigrants in this city. The only prohibition our officers have is, when they're 23 investigating a crime, they do not ask a person, a victim or a suspect, "Are you an 24 illegal immigrant?" We just don't ask that.

25 McIntyre Decl. at Exhibit 1, 9:14-19.

26       As implemented by the LAPD, Special Order 40 generally prohibits officers from 27 referring illegal aliens to federal immigration officials, although this is another fact that is 28 disputed by the parties. Plf's Resp. at Fact Nos. 14-15, 34-36. In interrogatory responses, Defendants admitted that LAPD officers "generally would not do so as a matter of policy or practice given that the immigration status is not a subject of the work that LAPD officers do."

1 Defs' Resp. to Plf's 1st Am. Spec. Interrog. at Resp. No. 10. Deputy Chief Perez testified that, 2 with the single exception of previously deported violent offenders, he was not aware of any 3 circumstance under which an LAPD officer could refer an illegal alien to federal immigration 4 officials. Perez Dep. at 24:16-23. Assistant Chief Paysinger testified that, under Special Order 5 40, officers do not report victims and witnesses to federal immigration authorities, although an 6 exception may be made for victims and witnesses of human smuggling operations. Paysinger 7 Dep. at 31:17-25. In his thirty years of experience with the LAPD, Assistant Chief Paysinger 8 was not aware of any circumstance in which LAPD officers had reported victims, witnesses, 9 suspects, or arrestees to federal immigration officials. Paysinger Dep. at 32:1-14.

10 Deputy Chief Brennan testified that it would be inconsistent with LAPD's policy for an 11 officer to notify federal immigration officials about a person's immigration status "just for any 12 purpose." Brennan Dep. at 32:5-16. He agreed that, if an officer just happened to learn, 13 unrelated to a criminal investigation, that a person was an illegal alien, the officer would not refer 14 that person to federal immigration officials. Id. at 29:6-15. As with inquiries about a person's 15 immigration status, Deputy Chief Brennan testified that officers do not notify federal 16 immigration officials about a person's immigration status unless they are conducting a criminal 17 investigation and the person's immigration status is relevant to the investigation. Id. at 29:6-15, 18 36:8-37:25. Deputy Chief Brennan further testified that circumstances under which an officer 19 could notify federal immigration officials about a person's immigration status included human 20 smuggling investigations or gang-related investigations. Id. at 26:18-28:18, 36:8-37:25. He was 21 not aware of any other specific circumstances where federal immigration officials would receive 22 such notification. Id. at 20:20-21:19, 36:8-37:25. Deputy Chief Brennan acknowledged that the 23 LAPD only makes information about arrestees' place of birth available to federal immigration 24 authorities and that this is done through the Los Angeles County Sheriff's Office. Id. at 20:20-25 21:19, 23:8-21. He also acknowledged that there is no specific procedure for notifying federal 26 immigration officials about illegal aliens who are arrested or detained, but not booked. Id. at 27 23:25-24:6.

1 Unlike any other witness, Deputy Chief Diaz testified that there was no prohibition on 2 notifying federal immigration officials about a person's immigration status, but he also testified 3 that, should an officer make such a notification, he or she may be subject to an inquiry.<sup>3</sup> Diaz 4 Dep. at 44:23-45:14, 47:10-48:14, and 50:15-25. He cited alien smuggling cases and previously 5 deported felons as examples of when officers could refer illegal aliens to federal immigration 6 officials. Id. at 48:15-49:20, 52:25-53:9. The only instance in which, according to Deputy Chief 7 Diaz, it would be inconsistent with Special Order 40 for an officer to refer a person to federal 8 immigration officials was if the officer initiated a police action with the objective of discovering 9 a person's immigration status, then subsequently notified federal immigration officials about that 10 person. Id. at 60:20-61:6. Deputy Chief Diaz also testified that, as a matter of practice, the 11 LAPD does not notify federal immigration officials about the arrest of an illegal alien even where 12 the arrestee's illegal status is known. Id. at 78:14-79:12, 92:17-93:8. Like Deputy Chief 13 Brennan, Deputy Diaz acknowledged that the LAPD only makes information about arrestees' 14 place of birth available to federal immigration authorities. Diaz Dep. at 19:18-21:4, and 69:9-25.

15 Importantly, in 2000 the LAPD Board of Police Commissioners asked the Rampart 16 Independent Review Panel to review the LAPD's compliance with Special Order 40. In February 17 2001, the panel issued a report entitled "A Report to the Los Angeles Board of Police 18 Commissioners Concerning Special Order 40" ("Rampart Panel Report"). In demurring to 19 Plaintiff's Complaint, Defendants asked the Court to take judicial notice of the Rampart Panel 20 Report, and, in doing so, acknowledged that the report was "not reasonably subject to dispute," 21 was "capable of immediate and accurate determination by resort to sources of reasonably 22 indisputable accuracy," and constituted "'regulation' issued by and under the authority of . . . the 23 City of Los Angeles through its Police Department." See Plf's Resp. at AMF No. 6. In sworn 24 interrogatory answers, Defendants later admitted that "[t]he report accurately summarizes the 25 implementation of Special Order 40." Id.

26
27 <sup>3</sup> His statement before the Los Angeles City Counsel was somewhat different, however.
28 June 12, 2007 Transcript at 9:14-22 and 15:17-19; see also id. at 35:25:36:7.

1 The Rampart Panel Report is largely consistent with the facts developed by Plaintiff 2 during discovery. The Rampart Panel Report summarizes its findings as follows:

3 The policies and procedures articulated by the Department preclude officers from 4 asking a person about his or her alien status and from notifying the INS about a 5 person's undocumented status unless the person has been arrested. Moreover, in practice, LAPD officers do not routinely notify INS about the immigration status of individuals who have been arrested.

6 Plf's Resp. at AMF No. 7. The Rampart Panel Report confirms that officers understand Special 7 Order 40 to mean that, unless working as part of a federal task force, they will not have cause to 8 contact federal immigration officials "for any reason, and that under no circumstance should that 9 contact include referring an individual for deportation." Id. at AMF No. 8 (emphasis original).

10 The report further confirms that:

11 . . . in practice, the Department's procedures vary from the procedures originally 12 set forth in Special Order 40 and go beyond the limited provisions of Special Order 40 that remain in the Manual. Indeed, as articulated, the procedures are more restrictive than as written."

13 Id. at AMF No. 9. These even more restrictive practices and procedures, which go beyond the 14 text of Special Order 40 itself, also are at issue in this lawsuit. Complaint at ¶¶ 1, 21, 36, 38-39, 15 and 41.

16 It also must be noted that, during a January 24, 2006 meeting of the LAPD Board of 17 Police Commissioners, Commissioner Alan J. Skobin stated, with respect to Special Order 40, 18 that "there is tremendous confusion within the Department. If you talk to 20 officers and ask 19 them about it, you're going to get many different answers." Plf's Resp. at AMF No. 10. Then-20 Assistant Chief Gascon also acknowledged confusion about the policy, at least on the part of 21 certain officers. Id. at AMF No. 11. In this regard, Deputy Chief Diaz testified that there was a 22 "dearth of formal training and information about specific issues concerning Special Order 40" 23 and that officers learn about the policy and its implementation through "folklore" or word of 24 mouth. Id. at AMF No. 12. In response to a question about what officers are told regarding 25 notifying federal immigration officials about a person's immigration status, Deputy Chief Diaz 26 answered, "I think what they're told is, 'This is what we do. Don't waste your time with that 27 other stuff.'" Id. According to Deputy Chief Diaz, the training is "very, very scant," and "[i]t's 28

1 handled differently, almost at the whim of individual instructors at the recruit academy,” Deputy 2 Chief Diaz testified. Id. He also testified that there was no lesson plan for in-service training for 3 incumbent officers either. Id.

4 Finally, much of what Defendants describe as “facts” are largely irrelevant. It is 5 irrelevant, for example, whether LAPD works collaboratively with Immigration and Customs 6 Enforcement (“ICE”), as Defendants allege and which Plaintiff disputes. It also is irrelevant 7 whether, on occasion, LAPD officers have participated in multi-agency task forces to try to 8 combat the trafficking of immigrants, placed holds on illegal aliens in LAPD’s custody, or turned 9 over illegal aliens to federal law enforcement authorities. Nor is it relevant whether ICE has 10 been denied information or assistance it requested. At issue in Plaintiff’s lawsuit are the 11 substantial restrictions, if not outright prohibitions, the LAPD places on its officers in obtaining 12 information about persons’ immigration status and sharing such information with federal 13 immigration authorities.

14 III. ARGUMENT.

15 A. Standards Governing Summary Judgment/Adjudication.

16 From commencement to conclusion, a party moving for summary judgment or summary 17 adjudication bears the burden of persuasion that there is no genuine issue of material fact and that 18 he or she is entitled to judgment as a matter of law. Aguilar v. Atlantic Richfield Co., 25 Cal. 4th 19 826, 850 (2001); Code Civ. Proc. § 437c. A genuine issue of fact exists if the evidence would 20 allow a reasonable trier of fact to find the underlying fact in favor of the non-moving party in 21 accordance with the applicable standard of proof. Aguilar, 25 Cal. 4th at 850. In ruling on the 22 motion, the court must consider all of the evidence and all of the inferences reasonably drawn 23 therefrom, and must view such evidence in the light most favorable to the non-moving party. Id.
24 at 844. If the court, without weighing the evidence or inferences presented as though it were 25 sitting as a trier of fact, concludes that the non-moving party’s evidence or inferences raise triable 26 issues of fact, it must conclude its consideration and deny the motion. Id. at 856.

1           B.       Defendants’ “General Laws” Argument Has No Merit.

2           Defendants’ initial argument tries to impose additional burdens on taxpayers like Plaintiff
3 who seek to enjoin illegal expenditures of taxpayer funds. These additional burdens have no 4 support in California law. Therefore, Defendants’ argument must be rejected.

5           First, Defendants rely on Herzberg v. County of Plumas, 133 Cal. App. 4th 1 (2000), for 6 the proposition that taxpayers seeking to enjoin an allegedly illegal expenditure of taxpayer funds 7 must demonstrate a “conflict with the general laws.” In Herzberg, the Court rejected the 8 plaintiffs’ claims of illegality, then determined that, because there had been no illegality, there 9 had been no illegal expenditure of taxpayer resources. Id. at 23. Herzberg simply does not stand 10 for the proposition that a taxpayer seeking to enjoin an illegal expenditure of taxpayer funds must 11 make some additional showing of a conflict with “general laws.” Id. at 23-24.

12           Equally unavailing is Defendants’ attempt to impose on Plaintiff the burden that a 13 plaintiff making a facial challenge to the constitutionality of a statute or ordinance must satisfy.
14 As an initial matter, Plaintiff does not challenge a statute or ordinance. He challenges an 15 administrative policy and practices and procedures implementing that policy. Plaintiff also does 16 not bring a direct constitutional challenge to Special Order 40. Rather, Plaintiff asserts that 17 Special Order 40 and the LAPD’s practices and procedures implementing Special Order 40 18 violate two federal statutes, 8 U.S.C. §§ 1373 and 1644. Plaintiff’s constitutional challenge is of 19 a derivative nature. Because both the U.S. and California Constitutions declare that federal law 20 is supreme (see U.S. Const., art. VI, cl. 2; Cal. Const. art. III, § 1), it logically follows that 21 Special Order 40 and the practices and procedures arising thereunder also violate these 22 supremacy clauses and are preempted by federal law. None of the cases on which Defendants 23 rely concern statutory, supremacy clause, or preemption challenges to policies, practices, and 24 procedures of a police force. They are inapposite.

25           Nor do any of Defendants’ cases stand for the proposition that a taxpayer seeking to 26 restrain, on purely constitutional grounds, an expenditure of taxpayer funds under section 526a 27 must make the same showings that a plaintiff, suing in his or her individual capacity, must make 28

1 when mounting a “facial” or an “as applied” challenge to the constitutionality of a statute or 2 ordinance. Plaintiff does not seek to “enjoin any application of [an] ordinance to any person in 3 any circumstance.” California Family Bioethics Council v. California Inst. for Regenerative
4 Med., 147 Cal. App. 4th 1319, 1339 (2007) (quoting Tobe v. City of Santa Ana, 9 Cal. 4th 1069, 5 1087 (1995)) (emphasis original). He seeks to enjoin the continued expenditure of taxpayer 6 funds in furtherance of an illegal policy. The use of section 526a to challenge the expenditure of 7 taxpayer funds on police policies and practices has a long and firmly established heritage in 8 California. White v. Davis, 13 Cal. 3d 757, 763 (1975). Yet Defendants fail to provide any 9 authority holding that a taxpayer bringing such a challenge must satisfy the same requirements 10 that a plaintiff bringing a “facial” or “as applied” challenge to the constitutionality of a statute or 11 ordinance must satisfy. Defendants conflate the two types of actions without demonstrating why 12 the requirements of a “facial” or an “as applied” constitutional challenge should apply in the 13 context of a section 526a taxpayer lawsuit. Defendants compare apples to oranges.

14 Finally, even if Defendants are right in arguing that a taxpayer bringing a purely 15 constitutional challenge to the expenditure of taxpayer funds must make a “facial” or an “as 16 applied” showing, they are wrong when they argue that Plaintiff can bring only a “facial” 17 challenge to Special Order 40 and the LAPD’s practices and procedures implementing the police 18 policy. Defendants’ argument ignores the case law they cite in their own memorandum. In Tobe, 19 the Court noted that there are two types of “as applied” challenges: (1) challenges that seek relief 20 from a specific application of a facially valid statute or ordinance to an individual or class of 21 individuals who are being injured as a result of the manner in which the statute or ordinance is 22 being applied; and (2) challenges that seek an injunction against the future application of a statute 23 or ordinance to enjoin the allegedly impermissible manner in which it is shown to have been 24 applied in the past. Tobe, 9 Cal. 4th at 1084. Both types of “as applied” challenges would 25 appear to apply in a taxpayer challenge such as this. In fact, in Tobe, the Court noted that the 26 plaintiffs in that case, in their capacity as taxpayers, had standing under section 526a to restrain 27 an illegal expenditure of taxpayer funds on future enforcement of an unconstitutional ordinance 28

1 or an impermissible means of enforcement of a facially valid ordinance. Tobe, 9 Cal. 4th at 2 1086. This is precisely the type of “as applied” challenge Plaintiff brings here. Complaint at ¶¶ 3 1 at 41.

4 C. Special Order 40 Violates Federal Law.

5 Even if the Court were to consider Plaintiff’s taxpayer challenge to Special Order 40 and 6 the practices and procedures arising thereunder as a “facial” challenge, it is clear that Special 7 Order 40, on its face, violates federal law. The text of the policy states as follows:

8 Officers shall not initiate police action where the objective is to discover the alien 9 status of a person. Officers shall neither arrest nor book persons for violation of Title 8, Section 1325 of the United States Immigration Code (Illegal Entry).

10 Defs’ Stmt. of Facts at Fact Nos. 20-21. Title 8, Section 1373 of the U.S. Code provides:

11 (a) In general. Notwithstanding any other provision of Federal, State, or local 12 law, a Federal, State, or local government or entity or official may not prohibit, or 13 in any way restrict, any government entity or official from sending to, or receiving from, the Immigration and Naturalization Service information regarding the citizenship or immigration status, lawful or unlawful, of any individual.

14 (b) Additional authority of government entities. Notwithstanding any other 15 provision of Federal, State, or local law, no person or agency may prohibit, or in 16 any way restrict, a Federal, State, or local government entity from doing any of the following with respect to information regarding the immigration status, lawful or unlawful, of any individual:

17 (1) Sending such information to, or requesting or receiving such 18 information from, the Immigration and Naturalization Service.

19 (2) Maintaining such information.

20 (3) Exchanging such information with any other Federal, State, or local government entity.

21 8 U.S.C. § 1373. Title 8, Section 1644 provides:

22 Notwithstanding any other provision of Federal, State, or local law, no State or 23 local government entity may be prohibited, or in any way restricted, from sending 24 to or receiving from the Immigration and Naturalization Service information regarding the immigration status, lawful or unlawful, of an alien in the United States.

25 8 U.S.C. § 1644.

26 Obviously, prohibiting officers from contacting federal immigration to obtain information 27 about a person’s immigration status directly violates both statutes. Similarly, prohibiting officers 28

1 from inquiring about a person’s immigration status substantially restricts officers’ ability to share
2 such information with federal immigration officials, and, therefore, violates both statutes. There 3 simply is no way to reconcile the policy’s express prohibition on initiating a police action to 4 discover a person’s immigration status with the federal statutes’ ban on prohibiting or restricting 5 the exchange of information about an individual’s immigration status. Nor do Defendants 6 present any such reconciliation. The policy is unlawful on its face.<sup>4</sup>

7         Nonetheless, there also is a genuine dispute of material fact about what constitutes 8 “police action.” The term “police action” includes an officer with one law enforcement agency 9 contacting another law enforcement agency to obtain or provide information, such as an officer
10 making an inquire of federal immigration officials about a person’s immigration status. Plf’s 11 Resp. at AMF No. 13. In fact, providing information to another law enforcement agency is a 12 “legitimate” police action. Id. at 14. Defendants assert that “[t]he definition of ‘police action’ 13 does not include communication with ICE,” but they do not provide any evidentiary support for 14 this assertion. Defs. Mem. at 12. Defendants do assert, however, that under Special Order 40, 15 officers are not prohibited from contacting federal immigration officials. Defs’ Stmt. of Facts at 16 Fact Nos. 14-16, 34-36. Plaintiff disputes this assertion. Plf’s Resp. at Fact Nos. 14-16, 34-36.
17 Because there is a dispute of fact about whether “police action” includes communicating and 18 sharing information with another law enforcement agency, summary judgment is not appropriate.

19         Defendants’ remaining arguments regarding Plaintiff’s claim that Special Order 40 20 violates federal law all concern various applications of Special Order 40 rather than the text of 21 the policy itself. Regardless, many if not all of the factual assertions on which Defendants rely 22 regarding the application of Special Order 40 are in dispute. Some are just plain wrong. Others 23 are irrelevant. For example, Plaintiff disputes Defendants’ assertions that “all Special Order 40 24 does is prohibit police action when the sole purpose is to discover the alien status of the person” 25 and that, in practice, Special Order 40 says nothing about contact or communication with federal

26
27 <sup>4</sup> Arresting a person for unlawful entry also may constitute information about a person’s 28 immigration status. The prohibition on such arrests is a substantial restriction on officers’ ability to provide information about a person’s immigration status to federal immigration officials.

1 immigration officials. Plf's Resp. at Fact Nos. 14-16, 34-36. Plaintiff also disputes Defendants' 2 assertion that officers may question a detained or arrested person as to his or her immigration 3 status. Plf's Resp. at Fact Nos. 32 and 44. Given these disputes of material fact, Defendants are 4 not entitled to summary judgment.

5 Defendants also are wrong in asserting that the LAPD's "implementation policies 6 specifically provide for notification to immigration authorities in circumstances where an 7 undocumented alien has been booked for certain offenses." Defs' Mem. at 13. Defendants 8 provide no factual support for this assertion, nor do they refer to their statement of undisputed 9 facts. In fact, the LAPD does not notify federal immigration officials about the arrest of an 10 illegal alien even where the arrestee's illegal status is known. Plf's Response at AMF No.
11 Moreover, in their statement of facts, Defendants assert only that "[t]he booking provisions in the 12 Manual require that an arrestee's birthplace be entered on the booking form, and that an "X" be 13 entered in the booking sheet to denote the arrestee as foreign born." Defs' Stmt. of Facts at Fact 14 No. 23. Plaintiff does not dispute that this is the LAPD's practice. However, it is undisputed 15 that a person's place of birth does not provide any information about his or her citizenship or 16 immigration status. Plf's Resp. at AMF No. 15.

17 It also is irrelevant whether officers do or do not have an affirmative legal duty to report 18 information about illegal aliens to federal immigration officials. Plaintiff's lawsuit concerns the 19 LAPD's substantial restriction, if not outright prohibition, on officers exchanging information 20 about a person's immigration status with federal immigration officials. Neither Plaintiff's 21 lawsuit nor sections 1373 or 1644 purport to impose an affirmative duty on officers to provide 22 such information to federal immigration officials. The federal statutes under which this lawsuit 23 arises prohibit restrictions on the exchange of information regarding a person's immigration 24 status. 8 U.S.C. §§ 1373 and 1644. For this same reason, it also is irrelevant whether officers 25 are or are not precluded from responding to requests from federal immigration officials about "an 26 individual's criminal activities or whereabouts." Defs' Mem. at 13 (citing Defs' Stmt. at 27).
27 An individual's criminal activities or whereabouts is not the issue. Nor is the issue whether the 28

1 LAPD “routinely assists the federal government.” Id. Again, the issue is the LAPD’s restrictions
2 on the exchange of information about immigration status.<sup>5</sup> Defendants cannot obtain summary 3 judgment by presenting facts that are irrelevant.

4 D. Special Order 40 is Preempted by Federal Law.

5 Separate and apart from whether Special Order 40 and the LAPD’s practices and 6 procedures implementing Special Order 40 violate 8 U.S.C. §§ 1373 and 1644 directly is whether 7 Special Order 40 and these same practices and procedures are preempted by federal law.

8 The U.S. Supreme Court has declared that “the power to regulate immigration is 9 unquestionably exclusively a federal power.” De Canas v. Bica, 424 U.S. 351, 354 (1976).
10 Consequently, federal law preempts state statutes that constitute a “regulation of immigration,” 11 which is defined as any determination of who should or should not be admitted into the country 12 and the conditions under which a legal entrant may remain. De Canas, 424 U.S. at 354-56.
13 Federal law also preempts state regulatory power where “Congress has unmistakably so 14 ordained” such a result. De Canas, 424 at 356; see also Michigan Cannery & Freezers Assoc., 15 Inc. v. Agricultural Marketing and Bargaining Board, 467 U.S. 461, 469 (“1984”) (“Michigan 16 Cannery”). Finally, federal law preempts state regulatory power where the state activity “stands 17 as an obstacle to the accomplishment and execution of the full purposes and objectives of 18 Congress.” De Canas, 424 at 363; Michigan Cannery, 467 U.S. at 469. Stated another way, a 19 state regulation is preempted if it conflicts with federal law, making compliance with both state 20 and federal law impossible. Michigan Cannery, 467 U.S. at 469.

21 Plaintiff does not assert that Special Order 40 and the practices and procedures arising 22 thereunder constitute a “regulation of immigration.” Thus, Plaintiff does not argue preemption 23 under the first De Canas test. Plaintiff does assert that Special Order 40 and the practices and 24

25 <sup>5</sup> In this regard, the “tremendous confusion” within the LAPD over Special Order 40, 26 which Commissioner Skobin referenced at the January 24, 2006 Police Commission meeting, 27 also substantially restricts the obtaining or sharing of information on persons’ immigration status.
28 Plf’s Resp. at AMF No. 7. If officers are confused about what they may or may not do, then they are less likely to request or share information with federal immigration officials. Such confusion constitutes its own violation of sections 1373 and 1644.

1 procedures arising thereunder are preempted under the second and third De Canas tests, namely,
2 because 8 U.S.C. §§ 1373 and 1644 constitute unmistakable federal mandates requiring the free 3 flow of information regarding persons' immigration status and because Special Order 40 and the 4 practices and procedures arising thereunder stand as obstacles to the accomplishment and 5 execution of the full purposes and objectives of Congress as expressed in these statutes.

6 In August of 1996, the U.S. Congress enacted Section 434 of the Personal Responsibility
7 and Work Opportunity Reconciliation Act of 1996 ("PRWORA"), Pub. L. No. 104-193, 110
8 Stat. 2105 (1996). One month later, in September of 1996, the U.S. Congress enacted Section 9 642 of the Illegal Immigration Reform and Immigrant Responsibility Act of 1996 ("IIRIRA"), 10 Pub. L. No. 104-208, 110 Stat. 3009 (1996). Section 434 of PRWORA, entitled 11 "Communication between State and Local Government Agencies and the Immigration and 12 Naturalization Service," has been codified at 8 U.S.C. § 1644. Section 642 of IIRIRA, entitled 13 "Communication between Government Agencies and the Immigration and Naturalization 14 Service," has been codified at 8 U.S.C. § 1373. These two provisions reflect a clear 15 congressional intent to promote the free flow of information between state and local governments 16 and officials and federal immigration officials regarding a person's immigration status.

17 The House Conference Report accompanying Section 434 of PRWORA explains:

18 The conferees intend to give State and local officials the authority to communicate 19 with the INS regarding the presence, whereabouts, or activities of illegal aliens.
20 This provision is designed to prevent any State or local law, ordinance, executive 21 order, policy, constitutional provision, or decision of any Federal or State court 22 that prohibits or in any way restricts any communication between State and local 23 officials and the INS. The conferees believe that immigration law enforcement is 24 as high a priority as other aspects of federal law enforcement, and that illegal 25 aliens do not have the right to remain in the United States undetected and 26 unapprehended.

27 H.R. Conf. Rep. No. 104-725, 383 (1996). Similarly, the Senate Report accompanying the 28 Senate bill that became IIRIRA states that the provision:

Prohibits any restriction on the exchange of information between the Immigration and Naturalization Service and any Federal, State, or local agency regarding a person's immigration status. Effective immigration enforcement requires a cooperative effort between all levels of government. The acquisition, maintenance, and exchange of immigration-related information by State and local agencies is consistent with, and potentially of considerable assistance to, the

1 Federal regulation of immigration and the achieving of the purposes and 2 objectives of the Immigration and Nationality Act.

3 S. Rep. No. 104-249, 19-20 (1996) (emphasis added).

4 It is difficult to conceive of how Congress could have expressed its intent to maximize 5 the flow of information between federal immigration officials and state and local law 6 enforcement authorities any clearer when it enacted these statutes. Congress's use of the words 7 "[n]otwithstanding any other provision of Federal, State, or local law" in both statutes clearly and 8 expressly preempts any and all federal, state, or local provisions of law touching on or regulating 9 this subject matter. Dep't of Transportation v. Superior Court, 47 Cal. App. 4th 852, 856 10 (1996). Congress has unmistakably ordained that state and local governments may not restrict 11 their law enforcement officers' communication with federal immigration officials regarding a 12 person's immigration status. Because Special Order 40 and the practices and procedures arising 13 thereunder substantially restrict, if not prohibit, the exchange of such information, they are 14 preempted by 8 U.S.C. §§ 1373 and 1644.<sup>6</sup>

15 In addition, Special Order 40 and the practices and procedures arising thereunder also 16 stand as substantial obstacles to the accomplishment and execution of the full purposes and 17 objectives of Congress. De Canas, 424 U.S. at 363. Both the House Conference Report and the 18 Senate Report make unmistakably clear that it was Congress's purpose and objective to promote 19 the enforcement of U.S. immigration laws and the detection and apprehension of illegal aliens by 20 eliminating restrictions on the free flow of information between federal, state, and local officials.
21 Even before the enactment of 8 U.S.C. §§ 1373 and 1644, California Attorney General Daniel E.
22 Lundgren issued a formal opinion in which he concluded that policies like Special Order 40 stand 23 as substantial obstacles to the enforcement of U.S. immigration. See 75 Ops. Cal. Atty. Gen.
24 270, 275-77 (1992) (internal citations and quotations omitted) (emphasis added). Special Order

25 _____
26 <sup>6</sup> While Defendants make repeated reference to the Immigration and Naturalization Act 27 (see Defs' Mem. at 10-11), that statute was enacted in 1952 and has been amended numerous 28 times over the years. It predates PRWORA and IIRIRA by some forty-four years. Gates v.
Superior Court, 193 Cal. App. 3d 205 (1987) also predates both statutes by some nine years.

1 40 and the practices and procedures arising thereunder are preempted by federal law because 2 Congress has “unmistakenly so ordained” and because they “stand[] as an obstacle to the 3 accomplishment and execution of the full purposes and objectives of Congress.” At a minimum, 4 there are genuine disputes of material fact about the contours of Special Order 40 and how this 5 policy is being implemented through various practices and procedures such that summary 6 judgment must be denied.

7 E. Special Order 40 Violates California Law.

8 The California Constitution declares, “The State of California is an inseparable part of the 9 United States of America, and the United States Constitution is the supreme law of the land.”
10 Cal. Const., art. III, § 1. Because the California Constitution recognizes the supremacy of federal 11 law and Special Order 40 and the practices and procedures arising thereunder violate 8 U.S.C. §§ 12 1373 and 1644, they must violate the California Constitution as well. The same disputes of fact 13 that prevent entry of summary judgment or summary adjudication on Plaintiff’s claims under 14 sections 1373 and 1644 thus preclude entry of summary judgment on Plaintiff’s claims arising 15 under California law.

16 In addition, in 1994, voters in the State of California passed Proposition 187, which 17 includes provisions that require law enforcement agencies in California to attempt to verify the 18 citizenship or immigration status of arrestees, and, if an arrestee appears to be an illegal alien, to 19 notify both the California Attorney General and federal immigration officials of the arrestee’s 20 apparent illegal status. These provisions subsequently were incorporated into the California law 21 as Penal Code § 843b. One year prior to the enactment of sections 1373 and 1644, however, a 22 federal court enjoined enforcement of various parts of Proposition 187, including Penal Code 23 § 843b, finding that the provisions were preempted by a comprehensive federal statutory scheme
24 regulating immigration. League of United Latin American Citizens v. Wilson, (C.D. Cal. 1995)
25 908 F. Supp. 755 (C.D. Cal. 1995) (“League P”). That same court later revisited its ruling in light 26 of the passage of PRWORA. League of United Latin American Citizens v. Wilson, 997 F. Supp.
27
28

1 1244 (C. D. Cal. 1997) (“League II”).<sup>7</sup> While the court declined to modify its injunction
2 expressly, it declared: “The Court agrees that some cooperation is permitted and even required 3 by the [PRWORA] . . . Nothing in this Court’s decision should be interpreted to prohibit 4 cooperation between state officials and the I.N.S pursuant to the [PRWORA].” League II, 997 F.
5 Supp. at 1252 n.9. Penal Code § 843b is consistent with, not preempted by, sections 1373 and 6 1644.

7 Nonetheless, Defendants appear to argue that Penal Code § 843b is preempted by this 8 same comprehensive federal scheme. Defs’ Mem. at 17-19. To reach such a conclusion, 9 however, would require a finding that Penal Code § 843b’s provisions regarding verification of 10 an arrestee’s immigration status and notification to federal immigration officials of an arrestee’s 11 apparent illegal status are preempted by a comprehensive federal scheme that includes provisions 12 requiring the voluntary exchange of this same type of information. The state and federal 13 provisions are completely consistent, not inconsistent. It is, however, inconsistent, for 14 Defendants to argue that Penal Code § 843b is preempted by a comprehensive federal scheme 15 governing enforcement of immigration laws, but Special Order 40 and the practices and 16 procedures arising thereunder are not preempted by this same scheme. If California is powerless 17 to enact laws requiring cooperation and information sharing with the federal government on 18 immigration issues, then certainly the LAPD does not have the power to prohibit such 19 information sharing.<sup>8</sup> Consequently, Special Order 40 and the practices and procedures arising 20 thereunder violate Penal Code § 834b as well.

21 F. Defendants’ “Tenth Amendment” Argument Has No Merit.

24 <sup>7</sup> It does not appear that the court considered the passage of IIRIRA in its later ruling.
25 League II, 997 F. Supp. at 1251-52.

26 <sup>8</sup> The 2001 opinion of Attorney General Bill Lockyer regarding enforcement of Penal Code 27 § 843b does little more than note the court’s rulings in League I and League II and quote from 8 28 U.S.C. §§ 1373 and 1644. It does not attempt to analyze the status of the rulings in light of the passage of the two statutes. Defs’ Mem. at 16-17, citing 84 Ops. Cal. Atty. Gen. 189 (2001).

1 As an initial matter, it is unclear what relief, if any, Defendants seek with their “Tenth 2 Amendment” argument. Defendants merely raise “concerns” about a factual assertion they think 3 Plaintiff “may argue,” citing the Tenth Amendment, among other provisions.

4 If Defendants in fact are arguing that 8 U.S.C. §§ 1373 and 1644 violate the Tenth 5 Amendment, then they are wrong. This precise issue was raised in a 1996 lawsuit filed by the 6 City of New York, which had a “Don’t Ask, Don’t Tell” policy similar to the LAPD’s Special 7 Order 40. In affirming the dismissal of the City of New York’s lawsuit, the U.S. Court of 8 Appeals for the Second Circuit held:

9 The operation of dual sovereigns thus involves mutual dependencies as well as 10 differing political and policy goals. Without the Constitution, each sovereign 11 could, to a degree, hold the other hostage by selectively withholding voluntary 12 cooperation as to a particular program(s). The potential for deadlock thus inheres 13 in dual sovereignties, but the Constitution has resolved that problem in the Supremacy Clause, which bars states from taking actions that frustrate federal 14 laws and regulatory schemes. We therefore hold that states do not retain under the Tenth Amendment an untrammelled right to forbid all voluntary cooperation by 15 state or local officials with particular federal programs.

16 City of New York v. United States, 179 F.3d 29,35 (2d Cir. 1999), cert. denied, 2000 U.S. LEXIS 17 569 (Jan. 18, 2000) (internal citations omitted). In short, the Court found that the Supremacy 18 Clause requires that federal law and federal policies trump state and local laws and policies, a 19 legal conclusion that is not readily distinguishable from the relief Plaintiff seeks in this litigation.
20 Defendants do not even try to argue that City of New York was wrongly decided. If Defendants 21 are making some other Tenth Amendment argument, then they have failed to articulate it, much 22 less demonstrate that it entitles them to summary judgment.

23 Equally without basis are Defendants’ other “concerns.” While Defendants baldly assert 24 that “it is not a matter of police action for LAPD officers to question an individual about his or 25 her immigration status” (Defs’ Mem. at 15), the U.S. Supreme Court has found that questioning a 26 person about his or her immigration status does not constitute a Fourth Amendment violation:

27 We have repeatedly held that mere police questioning does not constitute a 28 seizure. [E]ven when officers have no basis for suspecting a particular individual, they may generally ask questions of that individual; ask to examine the individual’s identification; and request consent to search his or her luggage . . .
Hence, the officers did not need reasonable suspicion to ask [the plaintiff] for her name, date and place of birth, or immigration status.

1 Muehler v. Mena, 544 U.S. 93, 101 (2005) (internal quotations and citations omitted). Plaintiff
2 does not contend that LAPD officers may question a person about his or her immigration status 3 solely because he or she does not speak English or solely because of a person's "ethnic 4 appearance." Defs' Mem. at 15. The LAPD's policy prohibiting racial profiling would appear to 5 address such concerns in any event. Plf's Resp. at AMF No. 16. Nor does Plaintiff contend that 6 LAPD officers are "mandated" to question anyone about their immigration status. Defs' Mem. at 7 15. Thus, there is no basis for Defendants' "concern" that, if officers were required to question 8 victims and witnesses about their immigration status, then the LAPD might run afoul of federal 9 law governing the provision of certain state and local public benefits to aliens. Id. Likewise 10 Plaintiff does not contend that LAPD officers have an affirmative duty to share information about 11 a person's immigration status with federal immigration officials. Plaintiff's only contention is 12 that the LAPD cannot prohibit or restrict its officers from acquiring information about a person's 13 immigration status or conveying such information to federal immigration authorities.
14 Defendants' "concerns" have no merit, and they certainly do not support entry of summary 15 judgment in Defendants' favor.

16 G. Defendants' Motion for Summary Adjudication Has No Merit.

17 Defendants make no separate arguments in support of their motion for summary 18 adjudication of Plaintiff's claims for declaratory and injunctive relief. Consequently, 19 Defendants' motion for summary adjudication must be denied for the same reasons set forth 20 above that Defendants' motion for summary judgment must be denied.

21 IV. CONCLUSION.

22 For the foregoing reasons, Plaintiff respectfully requests that Defendants' motion for 23 summary judgment, or, in the alternative, summary adjudication, be denied in its entirety.

24 Dated: May 15, 2008

Respectfully submitted,

1 PROOF OF SERVICE BY MAIL

2 I am employed in the City of Washington, District of Columbia. I am over the age of 18
3 and not a party to the within action. My business address is 501 School Street, S.W., Suite 500, 4 Washington, DC 20024.

5 On May 15, 2008, I served the foregoing document described as:

6 PLAINTIFF'S MEMORANDUM OF POINTS AND AUTHORITIES IN 7 OPPOSITION TO DEFENDANTS' MOTION FOR SUMMARY 8 JUDGMENT, OR IN THE ALTERNATIVE, SUMMARY ADJUDICATION

9 by placing a true and correct copy thereof in a sealed envelope addressed as follows:

10 Rockard J. Delgadillo, City Attorney
11 Michael L Claessens, Senior Assistant City Attorney
12 Vibiana M. Andrade, Deputy City Attorney
13 Paul L. Winnemore, Deputy City Attorney
14 City Hall East, 7th Floor
15 200 North Main Street
16 Los Angeles, CA 90012

17 Belinda Escobosa Helzer, Esq.
18 Hector O. Villagra, Esq.

21 Orange, CA 92868

22 Mark D. Rosenbaum, Esq.
23 Ahilan T. Arulanantham, Esq.
24 ACLU Foundation of Southern California
25 1616 Beverly Blvd.
26 Los Angeles, CA 90026

27 I caused such envelope to be deposited in the U.S. mail, with postage thereon fully 28 prepaid, at Washington, D.C. I am "readily familiar" with the firm's practice of collecting and processing correspondence for mailing. Under that practice, it would be deposited with the U.S.
Postal Service on that same day, with postage thereon fully prepaid, at Washington, D.C. in the ordinary course of business. I am aware that on motion of the party served, service is presumed invalid if postal cancellation date or postage meter date is more than one day after date of deposit for mailing affidavit.

I declare under penalty of perjury of the laws of the State of California that the foregoing is true and correct and that this declaration was executed on May 15, 2008 at Washington, D.C.
