Dear Ms. Millspaw:

This is in response to your Freedom of Information Act (FOIA) request, as clarified by your certified fax dated November 12, 2008, in which you requested all agency records detailing and authorizing the creation of Barack Obama's Change.gov website.

Enclosed is the authorization letter from the GSA Chief Information Officer dated November 5, 2008, the Registrar's registration record and other documentation associated with this Internet domain. Should you require any further information on this endeavor, please contact Mr. Lee Ellis, Policy Analyst, Office of Technology Strategy, and reference our FOIA tracking number 138287.

Sincerely,

MEMORANDUM FOR DONNA SAMBLANET
DOMAIN MANAGER (TOI)

FROM: CASEY COLEMAN
CHIEF INFORMATION OFFICER (I)

SUBJECT: Request for Non-GSA Domain Name
(change.gov)

Ms. Rosemary Olsen, Director, Applied Engineering Division, Federal Acquisition Service (FAS), requests a new, top level, non-gsa.gov domain name, change.gov. This request is for GSA FAS to have this domain name reserved for their use within the Presidential Transition activities they are managing.

Ms. Olsen has agreed to pay the domain name registration fee and will observe all web policies concerning this domain name request. Ms. Olsen will serve as the GSA point of contact for change.gov and can be contacted on (703) 605-9124 or via E-Mail at rosemary.olsen@gsa.gov.

As the Chief Information Officer for the U.S. General Services Administration, I have determined that it is in the best interest of the Federal Government to register the subject domain name.

If you have questions regarding this matter, you may contact Ms. Brie Sansotta, at 202-501-2498.

November 4, 2008

Mr. Stanley F. Kaczmarczyk
Principal Deputy Associate Administrator
General Services Administration
Room 5240
1800 F Street NW
Washington DC 20405-0002

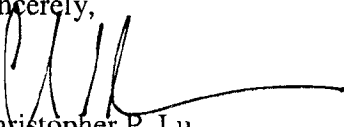

Dear Mr. Kaczmarczyk:

I am writing to request a waiver from the Internet.gov domain naming conventions as outlined in 41 CFR102-173.90 and register and assign the www.change.gov domain to this office. I understand that this CFR citation addresses special restrictions on the use and registration of canonical, or category, names in the Internet .gov domain space and that your office previously denied a request from the GSA Presidential Transitional Team to register this domain.

As the Executive Director of the Obama-Biden Presidential Transition Project, I believe that a clear message of "CHANGE" is required to effect a successful presidential transition and that establishing the www.change.gov domain is a critical component of this message. The President-Elect's transition office is striving to provide information and access to our citizens in a manner that they can easily access and understand. Granting this waiver will be a significant step in allowing us to realize this goal.

If you need any further information or have any questions in your consideration of this matter, please do not hesitate to contact me at 703-309-4720.

Sincerely,

Christopher P. Lu
Executive Director
Obama-Biden Transition Project

The Internet domain Change.gov is a legal entry in Gov domain because the presidential transition is an activity with hybrid support from Government and the private funds from the President-elect and others. The Office of the President-elect is specifically recognized by federal law, specifically - The Presidential Transition Act of 1963, as amended (3 USC 102 note). It is a unique entity that is entitled to government support while still retaining characteristics of a private organization. Section 3 of the Presidential Transition Act authorizes the General Services Administration to provide services and support to the Office of the President-elect beginning the day after the election until 30 days after the inauguration. Based on the federally recognized status of the Office of the President-elect, and GSA's responsibility to support the Office, we have determined that it is appropriate for them to use a .gov domain. This is the same conclusion that we reached in the presidential transition of 2000-2001.

Below is a listing of other functions that we perform for president-elects as they enter office. We also support the departing president with certain functions after they leave office.

Presidential Transition Overview

The transfer of power from one administration to the next marks a significant moment in U.S. history. Many federal employees may not realize that we play a prominent role in this process. The Presidential Transition Act authorizes the U.S. General Services Administration to provide the President-elect and the Vice-President-elect the services and facilities needed to assume their official duties.

Some of GSA's responsibilities include:

- Providing temporary office space, parking, furniture, telephones, furnishings, supplies, IT equipment, mail management, payroll, financial, contracting and other administrative services for the transition team;
- Consulting with Presidential candidates prior to the general election, to develop a plan for technology systems that will support the transition between the election and the inauguration;
- Paying for travel, printing, postal services and other expenses;
- Developing in collaboration with the National Archives and Records Administration (NARA) a transition directory to help familiarize key Administration officials with information about each department and agency;
- Coordinating orientation activities with high level nominees and appointees;
- Supporting the Presidential Inaugural Committee;
- Providing support to the outgoing President and the former Vice-President;

At the end of the transition period, establishes the permanent office of the former President, and maintains a budget to manage the office during the lifetime of the President.

In order to be approved please verify the following information is complete: - (1) Primary and (1) Secondary Name Server records. - Please check all POC contact information for completeness and accuracy. - Please fax your domain authorization letter to (540) 301-0160. - You must have 3 distinct POCs on this domain in order to gain approval. NOTE: Please make certain all POCs have working email addresses. Bounced email is a valid reason to halt traffic and service to your domain. The Admin POC must be from the signatory's office. For example, the Admin POC for a new state domain name must be in the governor's office. The Technical POC must be available 24x7 if this .gov domain name is critical to your infrastructure. After you have completed the above and have programmed your name se	Donr Saml
