Executive Summary:

Summary Text:

(TS/ [REDACTED]) This briefing for Senators Roberts and Rockefeller took place in SH211 from 1030 to 1210 on 4 February. Rockefeller was unable to attend; he was to be briefed by his principal staffer [REDACTED]. The purpose of the meeting was to brief the Senators in their new capacities as Chairman and Vice Chairman on our "enhanced interrogation techniques". The briefing was to be similar to that given to their predecessors Senators Graham and Shelby. Before the meeting could be scheduled, two events occurred about which the Senators needed to be informed. These were, in chronological order, the awareness of senior officers, to include the General Counsel, the D/OCA, and the DCI/COS that tapes had been taken and retained of the interrogation of Abu Zubayda and, in late December 2002, the inappropriate "interrogation" of terrorist operative Nashiri by CIA officers. All three subjects were briefed in considerable detail to Senator Roberts and staffers [REDACTED].

(TS/ [REDACTED]) The first part of the briefing by Pavitt and [REDACTED] described in great detail the importance of the information provided by Zubayda and Nashiri, both of whom had information of on-going terrorist operations, information that might well have saved American lives, the difficulty of getting that information from them, and the importance of the enhanced techniques in getting that information. Both Zubayda and Nashiri were described as founts of useful information, even though it seems clear that they have not, even under enhanced techniques, revealed everything they know of importance. [REDACTED]

(TS/ [REDACTED]) The enhanced techniques were described in considerable detail, including how the water board was used. The General Counsel described the process by which the techniques were approved by a bevy of lawyers from the SC, the Vice President's office and the Justice Department, including the Criminal Division and the Attorney General who opined that the techniques were legal under U.S. law.

(TS) [REDACTED] The Senator was briefed by Pavitt on the events surrounding the inappropriate "interrogation" of Nashiri. These included the cocking of a pistol (reportedly unloaded) near his blind-folded face, and the brandishment of an electric hand held drill (at this, Senator Roberts winced). Pavitt spoke disparagingly of the actions of the officers who violated guidance and stated that he had asked for the Inspector General's investigation, of which the SSCI has recently been notified.

(TS) [REDACTED] Pavitt and Muller briefly described the circumstances surrounding the existence of tapes of the Zubayda debriefing, the inspection of those tapes by OGC lawyers, the comparison of the tapes with the cables describing the same interrogations. According to Muller, the match was perfect and [REDACTED] who did the review was satisfied that the interrogations were carried out in full accordance with the guidance. Muller indicated that it was our intention to destroy these tapes, which were created in any case as but an aide to the interrogations, as soon as the Inspector General had completed his report. (In a subsequent briefing to Congressmen Goss and Harman, Muller said that the interrogators themselves were greatly concerned that the tapes might leak one day and put themselves and their families at risk.) Senator Roberts listened carefully and gave his assent.

[REDACTED]

(TS) [REDACTED] Throughout the briefing Senator Roberts posed no objection to what he had heard. It seemed clear that he supported the interrogation effort.

(TS) [REDACTED] Roberts [REDACTED] asked me whether I had "taken up the line" the Committee's, actually Senator Graham's, late November request to undertake its own "assessment" of the enhanced interrogation. I explained to Senator Roberts the dialogue I had had with [REDACTED] and our response that we would not support reading another staffer into the program nor allow any staffer to review the interrogations in real time or visit the clandestine site where the interrogations were taking place. Quickly, the Senator interjected that he saw no reason for the Committee to pursue such a request and could think of "ten reasons right off why it is a terrible idea" for the Committee to do any such thing as had been proposed. Turning to [REDACTED] he asked whether they thought otherwise and they indicated that they agreed with the Senator.

Subject: MFR re Prisoner Abuse

From our files. TX - [REDACTED]

(TS) [REDACTED] Maj. Gen. George Fay (Army) began his testimony by asserting that "ghost detainees" had been a focus of a military investigation into prisoner abuse at the Abu Ghraib facility. He noted the presence there of what military guards and other officials in Iraq referred to as "OGA" -- "other government agencies." According to Fay, OGA personnel would interrogate detainees. None of the detainees under OGA supervision were registered in the military's prisoner accounting system. [REDACTED]

(TS) [REDACTED] Gen. Fay drew the Committee's attention to two problematic cases. The [REDACTED] (at Jamaidi) involved a detainee who was seriously injured prior to his arrival at Abu Ghraib. [REDACTED] This prisoner later died at [REDACTED]

(TS) [REDACTED] Gen. Fay observed that, while in Iraq, he had requested information [REDACTED] through the office of Gen. Fast (C-2); he asserted that neither these inquiries, nor those he made upon return to the US, generated any response. He added that CIA/D/OIG Helgeson subsequently informed him that the CIA was making its own investigation.

[REDACTED]

[TS] [REDACTED] Fay interjected by acknowledging that his office had been referred to the CID, but that CID could not provide information concerning interrogation techniques used by CIA or the names of CIA interrogators. [REDACTED]

[REDACTED] Gen. Fay reiterated that he needed specific information regarding CIA personnel who were involved or otherwise present.

[TS] [REDACTED] Sen. Rockefeller then asked Gen. Fay how he could assert that a detainee (al-Jamali) died from injuries sustained before his arrival at Abu Ghraib; perhaps he died there from injuries due to various interrogation techniques. Fay replied that an investigation determined that the detainee died from the blows inflicted by four Navy personnel before he arrived at the prison.

CHRONOLOGY OF CONGRESSIONAL BRIEFINGS
REGARDING CIA INTERROGATION TECHNIQUES

Key Legal Background:

- [REDACTED]
- [REDACTED] the DCI directed CTC in mid-2002 to establish a program to capture, detain, and interrogate the highest value AQ operatives to obtain critical threat and actionable intelligence as well as strategic intelligence.
- In addition, CIA obtained DOJ's informal concurrence of CIA's legal analysis that the CIA's enhanced interrogation techniques would not violate US obligations under Article 16 of the Convention Against Torture.
- In May 2005, DOJ provided new legal opinions finding not only that all the techniques did not violate the federal torture statute, but also they would not constitute cruel, inhumane, or degrading treatment.
- DOJ is currently drafting new opinions to consider the Detainee Treatment Act since passed into law. This new opinion will only consider seven of the original thirteen techniques that the Agency is proposing for use in a revised program.
