Α And he was one of the staffers. 2 Did you work with him or did you just happen to 3 meet him in passing? A It was a little bit of both. I was doing 5 the usual things that interns do, running around, answering 6 phones, gophering. He was in the staff room and I was 7 wherever they put me that day. 8 0 Okay. And did you remain in contact with Mr. 9 Livingstone between 1988 and the 1992 campaign? 10 He was the only contact I had in 1992 for the 11 campaign and at the time that I was interested, decided I was interested in working on the campaign he was the only .12 13 political person I knew. And at that time he was with Ross Perot and he gave me the name of James Day in Little Rock. 14 15 Q Okay. And then after the election, did you contact Mr. Livingstone to work on the inaugural? 16 17 He contacted me. . A Okay. And do you remember what your position or 18 Q 19 responsibilities were with respect to the Inaugural . Committee? 20 Staff assistant. In respect to what I exactly did A 21 for the inaugural was originally when people came in I would 22 23 be the receptionist, greeter. And then later began to manage the badge issuance process in conjunction with the 24

	긔	Q And in what capacity?
	2	A I don't know what they originally called it, but I
	3	think it was staff assistant.
	4	Q Okay. Do you recall how you got your job as staff
	5	assistant?
	6	A Craig offered it and I said, yes.
	7	Q And that would have been approximately when?
	8	A February of '93.
	9	Q So, basically, it was instantaneous from the Craig
	10	offered it to you and the job started very shortly
	11	thereafter?
	12	A A week later.
	13	Q Okay. Did you interview at all with Mr.
	14	Livingstone or was it just an offer?
	15	A No. Since I had already worked for him I don't
	16	think he needed to interview me.
	17	Q Did anyone in the White House Counsel's Office
	18	interview you or speak with you with regard to your
	19	employment at the White House?
	20	A No. Other than to say, welcome, though.
	21	Q Okay. Do you remember who said, welcome?
	22	A People, I mean just the general office. I mean
	23	specifically, no, I don't remember.
	24	Q Okay. Do you remember when you started whether
	25	the office had a copy machine?

	A les.
2	Q One?
3	A Yes.
4	Q A fax machine?
5	A Nope.
6	Q Did you have a computer when you started?
7	A I had access to a computer. But I did not have
8	one that was strictly dedicated to me.
9	Q Okay. When you first started, do you know how
10	many computers were in the office?
11	A It depends on what kind of computer you mean.
12	Q Well, why don't you describe to us what kind of
13	computers were there?
14	A There was a Wang computer that was probably issued
15	in 1970 and then there was a 286 computer, IBM-PC.
16	Q And when you said you had access to a computer,
17	did you mean
18	A Both of those.
19	Q Okay.
20	A The 1970 Wang computer was only data base, you
21	couldn't do anything on it.
22	Q I see. Did Mr. Livingstone have a computer?
23	A He had access to that same computer.
24	Q Okay. I understand that at some point a number of
25	additional computers were brought into the office?
