Re: Calendar Year 2003 filing

Dear Judge Lisi:

Thank you for your letter of July 30, 2004 regarding my reporting of Medco Health Solutions. Upon reviewing this matter, I found that I made an error, for which I apologize.

Medco Health Solutions is a spin-off from Merk. I received [REDACTED] Medco on August 25, 2003. Its value was [REDACTED] per share or a total of $961.20. Its value as of June 30, 2004 was [REDACTED] per share, so I am confident the [REDACTED] as of December 31, 2003 were valued on the market at less than $15,000, which would be J as I reported.

On my Prudential statements, Medco was treated as a "stock dividend," so I listed it under the "dividend" column with a value of A-$1,000 or less. I realize that this was probably a mistake. I received no cash dividends during 2003 from this stock, so the correct reporting should be "None."

Finally, I also erred in listing the stock as being sold on August 25, 2003. That is actually the date I received it. The confusion arose because of a Prudential statement that listed the Merk acquisition date together with the Medco acquisition date under a column of Bought & Sold.
