VIII. ADDITIONAL INFORMATION OR EXPLANATIONS. (Indicate part of Report.)

1. Explanatory note concerning Hoskins Group LP (lines 121-185): [redacted] each owned 20% of the shares and were limited partners of Hoskins Group LP; [redacted] were the general partners. On March 5, 2009, the partnership sold all of the individual stocks in their portfolio. They took a capital loss on every one of the stocks; hence, there were no gains to report in column D(4) as to any individual stock. Apart from the Buffalo Jayhawk China Fund (line 123) and the Buffalo International Fund (line 172), all of the assets of the Hoskins Group LP were sold in March 2009. The proceeds from the stock sales were placed into the two existing Buffalo funds and five additional Buffalo funds (lines 186-196) and the Northern Tax-Exempt account (line 197). Between March and July 2009, the funds of the partnership were held in common in the Buffalo funds. In July 2009, the partnership dissolved and each of the [redacted] received their share. [redacted] share is now in a separate account in her name and remains allocated to the seven Buffalo funds and the Northern Tax-Exempt account.

2. Explanatory note concerning Prudential annuity product (lines 3-91): The Prudential account contains funds that previously had been invested in the Mayer Brown 401K and partner retirement accounts. The product has a guaranteed return option, which I elected. As a result, as the market fluctuated a great deal over the course of 2008 and early 2009, an algorithm programmed by Prudential triggered a large number of transactions that had the effect of transferring all of my assets into a single bond account (GR GRO). To simplify the process (and my reporting of it), my advisor now has transferred all of the assets into two funds (lines 78 and 85) that are not self-directed.

3. Lines 3, 93, 99, 102, 105, 108, 111, and 121 are headers for various funds -- the individual holdings of each fund, values, and transactions are reported in the lines below each header.
