I refuse to attend. Or at least I may decide at the last minute not to attend. Give my love to [redacted] one of the world's truly good people (and annoying talented).

Remarkable that it was moved, moved, canceled, reinstated, and moved again. Incredibly disruptive.

Director -

We got word that the restricted PC is back on for 3pm tomorrow. We don't expect to get the read ahead materials until later tonight (and only then through a special channel I don't have access to). As a result, unfortunately, I will have to get you prep material tomorrow AM.

Thanks

PS I'm having dinner with [redacted] who says hi.

Director –

For tomorrow morning's meeting with POTUS, you have been given a plus one. In consultation with Chuck, we'd recommend you invite the DD, because some other principals are bringing their deputies and the GCs including Jim B are unavailable (they will be testifying before PCLOB). Would you like us to see if the DD can attend?

Also, later today, I'll send you: 1) answers to the questions you asked in anticipation of tomorrow morning's meeting with POTUS; and 2) once we get them, materials for the PC that has now been scheduled for tomorrow at 4pm.

Thanks,

[REDACTED]
