Is it accurate to have concluded that, from the article, 602 guns have been recovered in the US after crimes?

Subject: Gunrunner

Hey Bill,

So I was just re-reading a story on Gunrunner from Main Justice this morning. It says 797 Fast & Furious guns "were recovered in Mexico and the U.S. after they were used in crimes. Of those crime guns, 195 were recovered in Mexico." That means 602 were recovered in the U.S. after crimes.

Can you get me some info on what kinds of crimes those guns were involved in? Especially the serious ones, and whether the possessor was prohibited from having it (i.e. the person obtained it through a straw purchase). I realize it may take some time.
