Subject: Indictment of murderers of Agent Terry

I'm traveling today, so not sure who is already aware of this, but the District of Arizona is unsealing an indictment today against three defendants for murdering Border Patrol Agent Brian Terry. Two additional defendants have also been indicted but their indictment remains sealed, as they both remain fugitives. The unsealing will likely garner significant media interest, both of its own accord, and because of allegations that the gun used to murder Agent Terry were purchased during the Fast and Furious operation. Just wanted to make sure that everyone was aware.
