Subject: Folder on Q:

Kristin,

I wanted to be sure we were all talking about the same "Fast and Furious" folder. The folder on the Q: drive I created for Rachel and Patrick is located @ Q:\Cases\FastandFurious. As requested, the following users have access to that folder. The folder you mentioned under Emory's name was not created by IT and therefore we did not set the permissions. It was our understanding that the documents in the various locations would be moved to this location. Permissions can be set at the folder level. That means even though all those people listed below have access to the FastandFurious folder, lower level folders could have more restrictive permissions.

If there is anything further we can do to be of assistance please let us know.
