

UNCLASSIFIED

“The luxury of obliviousness”

- Awareness requires effort and commitment.
- Being able to command the attention of lower-status individuals without having to give it in return is a key aspect of privilege.
- Race privilege gives whites little reason to pay a lot of attention to African Americans or to how white privilege affects them. “To be white in American means not having to think about it”

Obtained via FOIA by Judicial Watch, Inc.

UNCLASSIFIED

