CVAM,

Just giving you a heads up for ANG/Reserve C-40C planning. We are hearing rumors of W-441 traveling twice per week in October. Please identify any time periods where there might not be a jet available. We would then of course start looking closer at other assets in those timeframes, thanks.

When able, do you have any updates for this travel?

The crew is getting word that Ohio is off.

The aircraft is coming in from Scott AFB so we are quickly running out of time to change the initial departure time out of Andrews.
