Mme Secretary:

I hope you've been well and had a nice Thanksgiving. You're getting very positive coverage out of your trip to Brussels. The new NATO troop commitments will give people more hope and confidence about the strategy. It's a great story to come right after the speech.

I just wanted to let you know I've pitched in to help Raj Shah with prep and planning for USAID. I worked with him at the Gates foundation to package and launch their new global development portfolio.

He's a good pick - his youth and enthusiasm will be a breath of fresh air in a pretty stale environment. He's a very capable manager and a visionary who knows how to get things done.

As you know, for him to be successful in creating change he will need to be seen as having a seat at the table. A main concern in the development community is USAID's lack of a voice in the larger foreign policy dialogue.

The optics of that are easily accomplished with some visible interaction with you early on, as well as ongoing participation in senior-level meetings at State and NSC.

He's got good ideas for policy and personnel moves in the first 100 days, so I think he'll get off to a strong start.

Hope all's well with you.

All the best, Doug naturalization ceremony confirmed for tomorrow!

I hope that you had a wonderful Easter weekend. It was a bit last minute on Friday and then I received confirmation this afternoon, but I am now officially scheduled for my citizenship oath ceremony for tomorrow morning. I am so incredibly excited!

More importantly, I am so grateful to you for all your help to get me to this point in my life. And it all started some ten years ago when you first sponsored me. I am here because of you and there is no place in the world I'd rather be. Tomorrow afternoon, I will officially be able to say that I am proud to be an American.

Sorry to spam your email, but I will send you a picture and a quick update tomorrow after the ceremony! Thanks again for everything.

I know your schedule and wouldn't want you to go out of your way for this, but FYI this is where I will be for my oath ceremony tomorrow.

Subject: [REDACTED] immigration request for help

Dear Hillary--

Happy New Year! I feel terrible to ask you for help, but I am stuck and have run out of other options on my path to citizenship.

After you initially sponsored me and I became a permanent resident, I have now applied for citizenship in August 2011. At first, the process moved relatively quickly until early October, but now I am waiting for the interview/testing (the oath usually is administered within a month or two after) and there has been no movement. I am told by Citizenship and Immigration (CIS) caseworkers that it may be at least another 8 months before they get to me, making the total time more than a year (they advertize 6 months total turnaround time).

I have been in touch with staff and case workers, but am told that I just have to wait and see. While I thoroughly enjoy my current job, I cannot wait to start my career at either an agency contributing to policy and operations (have had several offers) or at a federal law enforcement agency. Without exception and regardless of my qualifications, these jobs all require U.S. citizenship, precluding me from accepting a job or even applying for these positions. Especially the special agent jobs all have an age restriction which I am getting close to and I do not want to miss that cutoff by waiting for citizenship.

Would you consider helping me by reaching out to DHS Secretary Napolitano or CIS Director Alejandro Mayorkas who reports to her on my behalf? The ask is to simply consider moving up my applications for review ASAP. My application is complete, straight forward and I have nothing to hide.

Again, I am sorry for bothering -- I just want to serve my country in a more involved capacity and don't want to miss any more opportunities to do so. As always, thanks for everything you have done for me.

At your suggestion, we are exploring the four seasons for NALS lunch. But WH is planning to do meeting on state floor in east hall or dining room. And then leaders will go to green room for lunch. They are offering us red room for FM lunch. Maybe that's a better option?
