Subject: FW: FINAL 01-13-10 Haiti Talking Points - 0530
Importance: High

There weren't a huge number of updates over the evening, though the phones are getting more active again now. Late this morning we learned that SYG Ban Ki Moon was in touch with AMB Rice, and told her that there were approximately 100 UN staff still buried under the rubble at MINUSTAH, [redacted] SYG Ban formally requested helicopter search and rescue teams. AMB Rice underscored that we need to make getting those SARs a priority.

B6

I'm attaching our draft talking points from about an hour and a half ago; the background sections in particular have some useful information. Currently, Southcom is conducting aerial reconnaissance of the airport to determine in what sort of repair it is. The talking points note that several countries and organizations (Dominican Republic, Chile, UK, the Netherlands, IADB) have offered assistance to Haiti (and info'd us). In addition to those on the list, the Israelis are trying to send several urban search and rescue teams (some of the team members need help getting visas to transit Miami en route to Port-au-Prince).

The UN Situation Center is in contact with MINUSTAH's Deputy Force Commander. They have been working to clear a couple of major streets in Port-au-Prince, as noted in the talking points. They have also reviewed the airport, and their Deputy Force Commander told the UN Situation Center several hours ago that the airport was functional (in the sense that the tarmac was intact and planes could physically land).

Oren Anolik, political counselor at the Israeli Embassy, called around 2 a.m. to ask if there were any updates. We had few updates at that time, other than to let him know that we had learned the damage to southern Haiti was much more extensive than that in the north.

Wanted to speak for a moment about Israel's announcement of changes to its Gaza policy.

As you know, Israel will be spelling out a new policy in the next few hours.

They have come a long way, and gone well beyond where we expected them to go. Clearly, they can go further. For example, there is no direct reference to increasing commerce between Gaza and the West Bank - something that the PA would like to see. We should keep pressing the Israelis to take additional steps such as this.

I know that our Quartet envoys are discussing a statement in response. I believe a statement is important, because this is such a central issue and exactly the sort of moment where the Quartet's voice should be heard. It can also add momentum to the process of reform of this policy.

I believe the statement should acknowledge and encourage the progress the Israelis have made through this announcement. They have announced some important steps and those should be welcomed.

The statement should also challenge them to (1) implement these steps swiftly and comprehensively, and (2) pursue additional steps.

Through a properly balanced statement that responds positively to the specific steps Israel has announced and challenges them to implement swiftly and to go further, the Quartet will be doing its job, and can serve as an oversight mechanism to make sure there is follow-through.

We should be acting together to promote progress - and we should be asking Israel to have a continuing conversation with the Quartet as representatives of the international community on how to keep improving the situation in Gaza.

I hope you will instruct your Quartet envoy to work with our team on text, and perhaps we can follow up with a principals call tomorrow.

"Hillary and I are deeply saddened by the passing of our good friend and colleague Howard Paster. We will remember Howard for his passion and candor, and his dedication to public service. As my Assistant for Congressional Relations, Howard made a tremendous difference in ensuring that my administration was able to carry out some of our most crucial initiatives.

As Chief Operating Officer for Hillary in 2008, Howard worked tirelessly and gave generously of his talents. We were thrilled to see him elected President of the Little League Foundation in 2002. We are thankful for Howard's friendship and we will miss him. Our thoughts and prayers are with Gail and their family."

Hillary-

It was great to see you for a bit at Thanksgiving and hope we can find some time soon to catch up.

I am writing to ask if you'd be interested in speaking at the Truman National Security Project's annual conference from May 4th to the 6th? It is an incredible organization and network of our nation's young foreign and domestic policy leaders (I am a little biased as a Truman fellow). This group is filled with smart, pragmatic, and idealistic young leaders from across the nation and I consider myself incredibly fortunate to be a part of it. I think you will really enjoy getting to spend a little time with some of them.

I've attached a letter with more info from Rachel Kleinfeld, the CEO and founder, who I think you've met a few times before.

Hope your trip is going well and know that you make all of us so proud.

Love and best, Zach

RELEASE IN PART
B5, B6

Basically a philanthropic organization started in 1986 for women and run by women. Gives millions of dollars each year in grants to NYC (must be within the 5 boroughs) based organizations to help lower income women and girls – specifically reproductive rights, anti violence and economic security. Current president (as we know!) is Diana Taylor. Their mission statement -- The New York Women's Foundation is a voice for women and a force for change. We are a cross-cultural alliance of women catalyzing partnerships and leveraging human and financial capital to achieve sustained economic security and justice for women and girls. With fierce determination, we mobilize hearts, minds and resources to create an equitable and just future for women, families and communities in New York City.
