Washington, D.C. 20520

July 24, 2019

Case Nos.: F-2018-00529, F-2018-00827,
F-2018-01063, & F-2018-01467

Michael Bekesha, Esq.
Judicial Watch, Inc.
425 Third Street, S.W., Suite 800
Washington, D.C. 20024

Dear Mr. Bekesha:

I refer you to our letter dated June 12, 2019, regarding the review of certain Department of State material under the Freedom of Information Act (the "FOIA"), 5 U.S.C. § 552. The review of potentially responsive records is ongoing, and has resulted in the retrieval of 69 additional documents responsive to your request. After reviewing these documents, we have determined that 1 may be released to you in full and 68 may be released in part. The released material is enclosed.

All non-exempt material that is reasonably segregable from the exempt material has been released. Where we have made excisions, the applicable exemptions are marked on the document. An enclosure provides information on FOIA exemptions and other grounds for withholding material.

We will keep you advised as your case progresses. If you have any questions, you may contact Trial Attorney Christopher Hair at (202) 252-2541 or Christopher.Hair@usdoj.gov. Please refer to the case numbers cited above and the civil action number, 18-cv-968, in all correspondence regarding this case.

Sincerely,

Susan C. Weetman
Chief, Programs and Policies Division
Office of Information Programs and Services

[Computer selected and disseminated without OSE editorial intervention] Libyan army asks Russia for weapons, hardware - newspaper

MOSCOW. Sept 28 (Interfax) - Libyan Army Commander Gen. Khalifa Haftar has sent messages to the Russian administration requesting supply of weapons and hardware, the newspaper Izvestia said on Wednesday.

According to the newspaper, the messages were delivered to the Russian side in the evening of September 26 by Haftar's special representative, Libyan Ambassador to Saudi Arabia Abdelbaset Al Badri. Special Representative of the Russian President for the Middle East and Africa, Deputy Foreign Minister Mikhail Bogdanov received the ambassador in Moscow.

"This meeting has actually happened. Al Badri paid a one-day visit to Moscow. His negotiations with Bogdanov highlighted lifting of the embargo and beginning of arms supplies. The Libyans have asked to supply both small arms and hardware, including aircraft. They have also urged Moscow to launch a military operation against Islamists in Libya, similar with the one underway in Syria," a source close to the Russian diplomatic circles told Izvestia.

Russian Ambassador to Libya Ivan Molotov said in late June that Russia would not supply arms to the Libyan authorities until related international restrictions were lifted.

~~(SBU)~~ Russian statements on Libya continue to highlight themes familiar from Putin's invectives about U.S. intervention overthrowing legitimate governments and creating an arc of instability in the region. Russian Deputy Foreign Minister Gennadiy Gatilov announced in New York September 22 that one of the key tasks for the international community should be "unification of Libyan state institutions, particularly the security structures." Casting Haftar as a defender against terrorism, Gatilov claimed it would be wrong to leave the LNA, which was fighting terrorists, on the sidelines. Similarly on September 26, the Russian MFA spokesperson bashed the U.S. approach, calling it a barbaric policy pursued in support of illegal coalitions in Libya.

Rob Malley and Jen Easterly will host a special extended Counter-ISIL Core Group meeting to review the initial draft of the President's Counter-ISIL Integrated Campaign Plan (ICP), which Brett will preview alongside S at tomorrow's NSC.

As you know, in December, the President requested an integrated campaign plan to lay out how we can put "ISIL in a box" and on a path to defeat over the next 12 months. Your staff(s) and more than 100 representatives from across the interagency have been working on this for the last several weeks. The plan looks out 12 months and synchronizes what we need to do across the U.S. government and with Coalition partners, reflecting CENTCOM's "next 10 plays" in ISIL Core in the 90-day period, but expanding out to cover the next year across a global counter-ISIL strategy. □

As a global strategy, it's critically important to have your voices at the table on Friday – given the complex diplomacy and assistance going on with Turkey and the focus on Libya, Yemen and Nigeria as top branches by the President.

On Friday we will discuss the draft plan, and socialize it across the entire Counter-ISIL and regional community. We will also particularly focus on where we have remaining policy issues and gaps in the resources needed—and the timelines involved—to assist our NSC leadership in using the Core Group, CSG, Deputies and Principals to make decisions and tradeoffs as strategically as possible to maintain momentum. This is where your attendance will play an especially vital role in the discussion.

Please let us know if you'll be able to attend.

Best,
Terry

As many of you know, this session will reflect several weeks of work by Terry and Bennett's teams, working closely with each of the departments and agencies to ensure that we have reflected this year's Campaign moves in a way that integrates all the lines of effort. This plan is broad and inclusive of not only Iraq and Syria, but also ISIL's branches and ISIL's connective network. The product will not only support the President's request for an Integrated Campaign Plan, but also guide our Campaign implementation and policy discussions for the next year.

Dear Jon,

We have just received some new intelligence on the Russian 'aid' convoy approaching Ukraine which, although [REDACTED] we thought we should share with you. [REDACTED] bilateral talks between POROSHENKO and the Kremlin over the conditions for the convoy entering Ukraine have broken down and the Russians are rerouting it through a pro-Russian rebel held border checkpoint near Lugansk.

Clearly there is now the potential for a confrontation, [REDACTED]
