Text Message from Cheryle Adams to Olivia Dedner

April 6, 2021 at 10:28am

Good morning Olivia,

Here are the names of the Decedents whose cause and manner of death are ready to release on Wednesday or Thursday during the mayor's press conference—if this is the preferred method, Dr. Diaz would like to know if you want to wait until Sicknick's information is ready to be released. Please let me know.

1) Ashli Babbitt: COD-Gunshot wound to the left anterior shoulder, MOD-Homicide
2) Kevin Greeson: COD-Hypertensive atherosclerotic cardiovascular disease, MOD-Natural
3) Benjamin Philips: COD-Hypertensive atherosclerotic cardiovascular disease, MOD-Natural
4) Roseland Boyland: pending
5) Brian Sicknick: pending

Subject: Information Requested on Cause and Manner of Deaths From January 6 Insurrection
Importance: High

THIS WAS APPROVED TO GO OUT – USE AS PRESENTED BELOW:

On Wednesday, January 6, 2021 an unprecedented incident of civil insurrection at the United States Capitol resulted in the deaths of five individuals. The District of Columbia Office of the Chief Medical Examiner, Dr. Francisco J. Diaz, MD, FACP, has issued the following determinations as to the cause and manner of death for four of those individuals.

Ashli Babbitt, 35 years old:

- Cause of Death—Gunshot wound to the left anterior shoulder
- Manner of Death—Homicide

Kevin Greeson, 55 years old:

- Cause of Death—Hypertensive atherosclerotic cardiovascular disease
- Manner of Death—Natural

Benjamin Phillips, 50 years old:

- Cause of Death—Hypertensive atherosclerotic cardiovascular disease
- Manner of Death—Natural

Roseanne Boyland, 34 years old:

- Cause of Death—Acute Amphetamine Intoxication
- Manner of Death—Accident

Obtained via FOIA by Judicial Watch, Inc.

The cause and manner of death for Capitol Police Officer Brian Sicknick are pending.

Background explanation of medical terminology on the cause and manner of death:

As determined by the Chief Medical Examiner, the "cause of death" is the medical disease, injury, alcohol, drug or toxic substance that caused a person's death. The "manner of death" describes the circumstances surrounding a person's death and falls within one of the following categories:

- Accident: Used when there is no evidence of intent; an unintentional, sudden, and unexpected death.
- Homicide: Death results from the intentional harm of one person by another, including actions of grossly reckless behavior.
- Natural: Used when a disease alone causes death. If death is hastened by an injury, the manner of death is not considered natural.
- Suicide: Death results from the purposeful attempt to end one's life.
- Undetermined: Used when there is insufficient information to assign another manner.

What went wrong with the protection of the U.S. Capitol

January 7, 2021
The Washington Post // David Ignatius

D.C. Mayor Muriel E. Bowser (D) and Gen. Mark A. Milley, the chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, both tried to avert a militarization of the response to protests, similar to what happened in D.C. and many other cities during the racial-justice protests that followed George Floyd's death. Wanting to avoid overreaction, they probably underreacted. That carried costs, but also benefits.

Few details so far about deaths of 'medical emergency' victims in rioting at Capitol

January 7, 2021
The Washington Post // Rebecca Tan, Steve Thompson and Antonio Olivo

Boyland's family did not respond to messages seeking comment. Atlanta TV stations on Thursday night quoted Boyland's brother-in-law, Justin Cave, who blamed Trump for inciting a riot that led to the death of Boyland, who he described as "very passionate about her beliefs." A Facebook page belonging to a Rosanne Boyland in Kennesaw features several pro-Trump posts and includes a false assertion that D.C. Mayor Muriel E. Bowser (D) ordered hotels and other businesses to close in advance of Wednesday's rally.

FBI, DHS Ignored Far-Right Dangers Ahead of Trump Riot

January 7, 2021
TIME // W.J. Hennigan

But by Thursday, it appeared the message had been received by D.C. Mayor Muriel Bowser who requested support from the National Guard. The U.S. military mainly supports local authorities through the National Guard, which is under the control of state governors, who respond to requests from local leaders. D.C. does not have a governor, so the Secretary of Defense has that responsibility, which has been delegated to the Army Secretary Ryan McCarthy by statute.

Mayor Bowser Urges Making DC Statehood Biden's 100-Day Priority
January 7, 2021
The DC Post // Larry Hamilton

Mayor Muriel Bowser said in a statement that DC statehood could become one of the first 100-day priorities for President-elect Joe Biden. Bowser called on the 117th Congress to pass legislation to make the District the nation's 51st state and get it on Biden's desk within the first 100 days. "Washingtonians have waited over 200 years for the representation we deserve as American citizens," the mayor said. "And it is not just the residents of DC who bear the burden of our disenfranchisement. To paraphrase Dr. King: when any American is denied democracy, our entire nation is denied those voices and votes."

DC Mayor Asks Feds to Cancel Demonstration Permits, Plan Inauguration Security
January 11, 2021
NBC 4 // Mark Segraves

The mayor of Washington, D.C., asked federal officials to cancel permits for demonstrations and plan to protect federal property around Inauguration Day "given the new threats from insurgent acts of domestic terrorists." Mayor Muriel Bowser asked Acting Secretary of Homeland Security Chad Wolf to cancel public gathering permits for the next two weeks, from Jan. 11 to Jan. 24. The request is "essential to demonstrating our collective resolve in ensuring the constitutional transfer of power and our nation's capital," Bowser wrote in a letter Saturday, days after a stunning riot inside the U.S. Capitol Building.

The best way to secure the Capitol is to make D.C. a state
January 13, 2021
The Washington Post// Robinson Woodward-Burns

Last week, President Trump incited what was essentially a white nationalist mob to storm the U.S. Capitol. Before the chaos, D.C. Mayor Muriel E. Bowser (D) had asked for a small deployment of D.C. National Guardsman, mainly to control traffic and monitor Metro stations. But when the violence erupted, she joined other local leaders — including Maryland Gov. Larry Hogan (R) and Virginia Gov. Ralph Northam (D) — in asking the Pentagon to deploy more forces, and to change the mission of the D.C. Guard. The Pentagon denied those requests at first, leading to a delay that may have lasted two hours (The exact timing is in dispute). District, Maryland and Virginia Guard troops eventually joined D.C. police officers and the Capitol police by nightfall and belatedly quelled the revolt.

A Colorado man who allegedly drove to Washington, D.C., and threatened to kill House Speaker Nancy Pelosi also talked about shooting D.C. Mayor Muriel Bowser—and "had the means" to carry out the sinister plot, according to prosecutors. In new court documents, prosecutors allege Cleveland Grover Meredith Jr. had been discussing "wartime" against several lawmakers last Wednesday before thousands of MAGA supporters stormed the Capitol building. Meredith drove to D.C. with a camper full of weapons on Jan. 6 and threatened Pelosi and Bowser in text messages to another individual. "At the time he made these threats, the defendant had the means to carry them out," prosecutors said in a pre-trial detention memo. "Specifically, he was in possession of two firearms, including one equipped with a telescopic sight, several high capacity magazines, and approximately 1,000 rounds of ammunition of various caliber, including 'armor-piercing' rounds. Finally, after arriving in Washington, D.C., the defendant engaged in an act of violence by assaulting a pedestrian, unprovoked, and then fleeing in his vehicle. Given these facts and circumstances, the defendant should remain detained."

heading to the Washington Monument. When I got there, hundreds of them covered the grassy expanse near the obelisk. "Let's take Black Lives Matter Plaza!" someone suggested. In June, the security fence around the White House had been expanded, subsuming green spaces previously open to the public, in response to protests over the killing of George Floyd, in Minneapolis. Muriel Bowser, the mayor of D.C., had renamed two blocks adjacent to the fence Black Lives Matter Plaza, and commissioned the city to paint "black lives matter" across the pavement in thirty-five-foot-high letters. Throughout the latter half of 2020, Trump had sought to dismiss the popular uprisings that Floyd's death had precipitated by ascribing them to Antifa, which he vilified as a terrorist organization. The Proud Boys had seized on Trump's conflation to recast their small-scale rivalry with antifascists in leftist strongholds like Berkeley and Portland as the front line of a national culture war. During the Presidential campaign, Trump's histrionic exaggerations of the threat posed by Antifa fuelled conservative support for the Proud Boys, allowing them to vastly expand their operations and recruitment. The day after a Presidential debate in which Trump told the Proud Boys to "stand back and stand by," Lauren Witzke, a Republican Senate candidate in Delaware, publicly thanked the group for having provided her with "free security." (She lost the race.)

Far-Right Activist Who Goes By 'Baked Alaska' — Reportedly Among Those Arrested After Capitol Riot
January 16, 2021
Forbes // Tim Gionet

Rioters organized online and openly planned to assault the U.S. Capitol, with some even taking the time to print t-shirts that said "Civil War January 6, 2021." Still, law enforcement appeared completely unprepared for the mob that stormed that Capitol after being riled up Thursday morning Trump, and significant efforts are now underway to remove him from office before his term ends in 12 days. For much of the afternoon Jan. 6, rioters moved relatively unimpeded throughout the U.S. Capitol building, and most of the arrests on Jan. 6 were for curfew violations after D.C. Mayor Muriel Bowser ordered the streets to be clear by 6 p.m. The lack of preparedness by Capitol Police has been widely condemned, especially since they responded with violence against mostly peaceful Black Lives Matter protesters in 2020. No love lost as Trump prepares to leave capital city
January 17, 2021
The Washington Times // Stephen Dinan and Seth McLaughlin

In the history of the nation's capital, no chief executive has ever had so terrible a relationship with his new home as Mr. Trump, who leaves the city a more broken and battered version of itself.

The president found the District to be a prison, confining him to the White House. His only safe spot was his hotel on Pennsylvania Avenue. Any chance he got, he headed for one of his golf clubs, either in Virginia for daylong road trips, or New Jersey or Florida for longer escapes.

The feeling was mutual. D.C. residents regularly lined up to boo his motorcade and jeer his staff as they braved the streets for a bite to eat.

"He considered it a swamp, and they considered him the swamp creature," said Kevin Chaffee, editor of Washington Life Magazine.

As Mr. Trump departs, his supporters are leaving a parting gift for a city on edge and under siege. Ahead of the inauguration of Joseph R. Biden, the Potomac River is being treated like a moat protecting the District. Although the drawbridges aren't being pulled up, authorities plan to post blockades to deny access from the south.

It's the latest manifestation of the disdain Mr. Trump and the city have long felt for each other.

Area Man Supports D.C. Statehood
March 18, 2021
DCist // Margaret Barthel

The president has been getting some not-so-subtle hints about the subject since his welcome back to the city from his neighbors in the Wilson Building down Pennsylvania Ave.: D.C. Mayor Muriel Bowser and her administration.

Advocate for DC Statehood
March 18, 2021
The Hoya // Brian Zhu

Recognizing a security threat, at 1:34 p.m., D.C. Mayor Muriel Bowser (D) requested National Guard forces from Army Secretary Ryan McCarthy. At 1:49 p.m., Capitol Police Chief Steven Sund requested assistance from the commanding general of the D.C. National Guard. The Guard was not activated.

Find out which DC streets are getting repaved
March 18, 2021
WTOP // Abigail Constantino

The District Department of Transportation released a map of which roads, street, alleys and sidewalks are getting improvements. It's part of D.C. Mayor Muriel Bowser's plan of "eliminating all poor quality roads in the District by 2024," according to DDOT.

The opening of DC's political season
March 18, 2021
DC Line // Jonetta Rose Barras

Those suggestions have come in recent weeks as Mayor Muriel Bowser prepares to file her proposed fiscal year 2022 budget and financial plan with the legislature. Initially, the document was to be submitted this month; however, she requested and received an extension until April 22 from the DC Council.

Carmageddon? DC's leaders can choose a different road.
March 18, 2021
Greater Greater Washington // Caitlin Rogger

More drivers also need more places to park; space better used for the pickup-dropoff zones (PUDOs), streateries, and outdoor retail that have been essential to the survival of local businesses and will likely be for some time, along with expanded sidewalks needed for safe social distancing. DC Mayor Muriel Bowser and the District Department of Transportation (DDOT) have leaned into these innovations during the emergency period, and business leaders say they've proven their value.

Voices of Wards 7 And 8: What Does Gentrification Mean For Neighborhoods East Of The River?
March 18, 2021
Dcist // Dee Dwyer

Obtained via FOIA by Judicial Watch, Inc.

Local government has taken steps to manage growth in communities east of the river. In 2019, Mayor Muriel Bowser signed an order requiring D.C. government agencies looking to lease new office space to give priority to locations in wards 7 and 8. The city has also distributed grants to microbusinesses owned or majority-owned by residents of Wards 7 and 8.

Much of D.C.'s Vaccine Information Is Only in English. Some Change is Coming.
March 18, 2021
Washington City Paper // Laura Hayes and Amanda Michelle Gomez

When Mayor Muriel Bowser's administration launched its pre-registration portal for the COVID-19 vaccine March 10, it was only available in English. The government website that hosts vaccine information and links to the portal, vaccinate.dc.gov, can be translated into Amharic or Spanish using Google Translate, but the actual portal where D.C. residents and workers enter their personal information to be added to a list of people vying for a vaccine appointment is strictly in English. Even the button that hyperlinks to the registration portal cannot be translated via Google because it's a graphic.

Yes, Capitol Rioters Were Armed. Here Are The Weapons Prosecutors Say They Used
March 19, 2021
NPR // Tom Dreisbach

Cleveland Grover Meredith of North Carolina planned to arrive in D.C. for the Trump rallies on Jan. 6, according to federal prosecutors, but he was delayed because of car trouble. He was arrested the following day for allegedly assaulting a man in Washington, D.C., in a traffic-related incident and for making death threats against the D.C. mayor and Pelosi.

National Cherry Blossom Festival goes virtual for second year in a row
March 18, 2021
Washington Times // Emily Zantow

Last March, festival events were canceled, postponed or held online in accordance with the D.C. Department of Health's recommendations to eliminate large crowds in order to stop the spread of the coronavirus. Mayor Muriel Bowser declared a state of emergency that is still in effect.

As Local Governments Try To Fix Vaccine Access Disparities, Community Leaders Question
March 18, 2021
DCist //Margaret Barthel

Significant racial disparities persist in the vaccine rollout across the D.C. region, despite the fact that Black and Brown communities have borne the brunt of the coronavirus pandemic. Now, after months of navigating complex appointment systems and logistical hurdles, public health officials and community-led groups are trying to correct course on a vaccine distribution process that was not designed for the region's most marginalized residents.

Even With Legal Sports Betting, the March Madness Experience Is Still Not a Reality in D.C.

A nationwide horror: Witnesses, police paint a picture of a murderous rampage that took 8 lives
March 18, 2021
The Washington Post // Tim Craig, Mark Berman, Hannah Knowles and Marc Fisher

Robert Aaron Long's family had finally had it. Long, 21, was so obsessed with sex — watching hour upon hour of pornography online, visiting the kinds of spas where the customers bought "massages with happy endings" — that on Monday night, his parents kicked him out of the house, according to police and a friend who confirmed the account.

As House approves 'dreamers' bill, Biden pushes for support amid GOP resistance in Senate
March 18, 2021
The Washington Post // Seung Min Kim and Marianna Sotomayor

President Biden on Thursday implored lawmakers to enact permanent protections for immigrants without legal status who came to the United States as children, a path that would formalize their footing in a country they have known as home for years.

IRS warns of potential delays for major child poverty initiative in $1.9 trillion stimulus
March 18, 2021
The Washington Post // Tony Romm

A program authorized under the $1.9 trillion stimulus to combat child poverty is at risk of early delays, as the Internal Revenue Service grapples with its massive tax backlog and recent decision to extend the tax-filing deadline until May 17.

A To-Do List for Robert Contee as He Prepares to Take the Helm of MPD
April 8, 2021
Washington City Paper // Mitch Ryals

Homicides in D.C. are spiking this year; currently, the number of homicides is 34 percent higher than at this point in 2020. Last year, D.C. recorded a 16-year high in homicides. The Council decreased Mayor Muriel Bowser's proposed police budget last year, and there is political will to reduce the size of the force going forward—against the department's wishes.

Good afternoon,

I'm an investigative reporter working with the BBC on an in-depth report about January 6. The MPD told me to direct my questions regarding Ashli Babbitt to your office.

- Have you made public the findings of her autopsy report?
- Has her body been returned to her family?

Thank you,
Emmanuelle

Subject:	Determinations of the Cause and Manner of Death - RE: January 6, 2021
Date:	Wednesday, April 7, 2021 2:33:28 PM

On Wednesday, January 6, 2021 an unprecedented incident of civil insurrection at the United States Capitol resulted in the deaths of five individuals. The District of Columbia Office of the Chief Medical Examiner, Dr. Francisco J. Diaz, MD, FACP, has issued the following determinations as to the cause and manner of death for four of those individuals.

Ashli Babbitt, 35 years old:

- Cause of Death—Gunshot wound to the left anterior shoulder
- Manner of Death—Homicide

Kevin Greeson, 55 years old:

- Cause of Death—Hypertensive atherosclerotic cardiovascular disease
- Manner of Death—Natural

Benjamin Phillips, 50 years old:

- Cause of Death—Hypertensive atherosclerotic cardiovascular disease
- Manner of Death—Natural

Roseanne Boyland, 34 years old:

- Cause of Death—Acute Amphetamine Intoxication
- Manner of Death—Accident

The cause and manner of death for Capitol Police Officer Brian Sicknick are pending.

Background explanation of medical terminology on the cause and manner of death:

As determined by the Chief Medical Examiner, the "cause of death" is the medical disease, injury, alcohol, drug or toxic substance that caused a person's death. The "manner of death" describes the circumstances surrounding a person's death and falls within one of the following categories:

- Accident: Used when there is no evidence of intent; an unintentional, sudden, and unexpected death.
- Homicide: Death results from the intentional harm of one person by another,

Obtained via FOIA by Judicial Watch, Inc.

including actions of grossly reckless behavior.

- Natural: Used when a disease alone causes death. If death is hastened by an injury, the manner of death is not considered natural.
- Suicide: Death results from the purposeful attempt to end one's life.
- Undetermined: Used when there is insufficient information to assign another manner.

Good morning to all,

I am following up to let you know that we have received multiple media requests for the cause and manner of death of the four decedents (Boyland included) that were casualties of the January 6th incident. I am preparing a spreadsheet of the media outlets so that when the information is available, I will be able to respond by blind copy to fulfill these requests. Please let me know if you have any questions.

Thank you,

Date: Wednesday, April 7, 2021 5:09:38 PM

On Wednesday, January 6, 2021 an unprecedented incident of civil insurrection at the United States Capitol resulted in the deaths of five individuals. The District of Columbia Office of the Chief Medical Examiner, Dr. Francisco J. Diaz, MD, FACP, has issued the following determinations as to the cause and manner of death for four of those individuals.

Ashli Babbitt, 35 years old:

- Cause of Death—Gunshot wound to the left anterior shoulder
- Manner of Death—Homicide

Kevin Greeson, 55 years old:

- Cause of Death—Hypertensive atherosclerotic cardiovascular disease
- Manner of Death—Natural

Benjamin Phillips, 50 years old:

- Cause of Death—Hypertensive atherosclerotic cardiovascular disease
- Manner of Death—Natural

Roseanne Boyland, 34 years old:

- Cause of Death—Acute Amphetamine Intoxication
- Manner of Death—Accident

The cause and manner of death for Capitol Police Officer Brian Sicknick are pending.

Background explanation of medical terminology on the cause and manner of death:

As determined by the Chief Medical Examiner, the "cause of death" is the medical disease, injury, alcohol, drug or toxic substance that caused a person's death. The "manner of death" describes the circumstances surrounding a person's death and falls within one of the following categories:

- Accident: Used when there is no evidence of intent; an unintentional, sudden, and unexpected death.
- Homicide: Death results from the intentional harm of one person by another, including actions of grossly reckless behavior.
- Natural: Used when a disease alone causes death. If death is hastened by an injury, the manner of death is not considered natural.
- Suicide: Death results from the purposeful attempt to end one's life.
- Undetermined: Used when there is insufficient information to assign another manner.

Good afternoon,

I'm an investigative reporter working with the BBC on an in-depth report about January 6. The MPD told me to direct my questions regarding Ashli Babbitt to your office.

- Have you made public the findings of her autopsy report?
- Has her body been returned to her family?

Thank you,

Does the Medical Examiner have a justification for why this was pushed beyond the 90-day period and what the Medical Examiner's policy is in this regard?

- OCME medical examiners comply with the National Association of Medical Examiners' (NAME) standard to determine the cause and manner of death within 90 days; however, for cases that are more complex it could be longer. Dear Cheryle,

Thanks for your call.

Would I be able to get a copy of the Medical Examiner's full determinations for the causes of death for those who died at the Capitol riot on January 6?

Can the Medical Examiner provide its definition of a homicide?

Can the Medical Examiner say why it has not been able to determine a cause of death for Officer Sicknick? Does it consider it a homicide? Has it ruled in or ruled out a chemical spray or a stroke causing his death?

Is the autopsy report for Officer Sicknick something that could be made available?

Does the Medical Examiner have a justification for why this was pushed beyond the 90-day

Many thanks!

Subject: FOLLOW UP: Cause and Manner

On Friday, April 2, 2021, an individual operating a motor vehicle intentionally struck two on-duty United States Capitol Police Officers with his vehicle, fatally injuring one officer, William "Billy" Evans. The District of Columbia Office of the Chief Medical Examiner, Dr. Francisco J. Diaz, MD, FACP, has issued the following determination as to the cause and manner of death.

William "Billy" Evans, 41 years old:

- Cause of Death— Multiple blunt force injuries to the head
- Manner of Death—Homicide

Background explanation of medical terminology on the cause and manner of death:

As determined by the Chief Medical Examiner, the "cause of death" is the medical disease, injury, alcohol, drug or toxic substance that caused a person's death. The "manner of death" describes the circumstances surrounding a person's death and falls within one of the following categories:

- Accident: Used when there is no evidence of intent; an unintentional, sudden, and unexpected death.

- Homicide: Death results from the intentional harm of one person by another, including actions of grossly reckless behavior.
- Natural: Used when a disease alone causes death. If death is hastened by an injury, the manner of death is not considered natural.
- Suicide: Death results from the purposeful attempt to end one's life.
- Undetermined: Used when there is insufficient information to assign another manner.

To learn more about the Office of the Chief Medical Examiner or cause and manner investigations in the District, visit ocme.dc.gov.

The cause and manner of death for Capitol Police Officer Brian Sicknick are pending.

Background explanation of medical terminology on the cause and manner of death:

As determined by the Chief Medical Examiner, the "cause of death" is the medical disease, injury, alcohol, drug or toxic substance that caused a person's death. The "manner of death" describes the circumstances surrounding a person's death and falls within one of the following categories:

- Accident: Used when there is no evidence of intent; an unintentional, sudden, and unexpected death.
- Homicide: Death results from the intentional harm of one person by another, including actions of grossly reckless behavior.
- Natural: Used when a disease alone causes death. If death is hastened by an injury, the manner of death is not considered natural.
- Suicide: Death results from the purposeful attempt to end one's life.

Thanks, Rod. I appreciate the thoughtful reply. Does OCME have records that would be less potentially invasive than an autopsy report? (I can see how releasing all of that would raise issues for family members.) For example, is there some other record that would indicate whether Ofc. Sicknick's death was determined to be a homicide or give any indication of what the specific cause was without going into all the other detail?

Brad,

Thanks for your message. I appreciate your perspective and it's not without merit, but OCME has a very resolute position about not releasing an autopsy report unfettered into the public domain. We put ourselves in the shoes of a victim's family who might be confronted with details about their loved one on the front page of a newspaper (or website). The situation is very analogous to medical records. However, by copy of this email, I am asking our Media Relations Specialist, Cheryle Adams, to add you to our email list of reporters who will receive any press releases that the Chief Medical Examiner may have on the deaths related to the Jan 6th riot.

Hi Rod –

I appreciate the prompt reply. Would you have a moment to connect about this? I think there's a very strong public interest favoring disclosure at least when it comes to Ofc. Sicknick, such that the balancing test under (b)(6) would suggest that any invasion of his privacy would not be unwarranted given the rather extraordinary circumstances.

Thanks,

Brad

Subject: Final Response 2021-FOIA-02874

Dear Brad Heath:

This is in response to your request under the Freedom of Information Act (FOIA) for the following:

Please provide me with a complete copy of any records indicating the cause and manner of death for the following people, who died on or about Jan. 6, 2021: * Brian Sicknick * Ashli Babbitt * Kevin Greeson * Rosanne Boyland * Benjamin Philips (Date Range for Record Search: From 01/06/2021 To 02/03/2021)

Access to medical examiner records varies widely between jurisdictions. The public policy of the District of Columbia is that all persons are entitled to full and complete information regarding the affairs of government and the official acts of those who represent them as public officials and employees. However, this is tempered by the protection of privacy for individual citizens and their survivors. A mission of the Office of the Chief Medical Examiner (OCME) is to support the families who have suffered a loss. See National Archives and Records Admin. V. Favish, 541 US 157 (2004). Disclosure of personal information, especially medical records, is not permitted under FOIA. DC Code 2-534(a)(2) and 5 USC 552(b)(6). Accordingly, OCME does not release its case files in response to FOIA requests. A direct request to OCME for a case file would need to be accompanied by 1) an authorization of the next of kin for release of information, 2) a subpoena, or 3) a court order. DC Code 5-1412 and 28 DCMR 5000. Therefore, I must advise you that your request is declined.

Under DC Code 2-537 and 1 DCMR 412, you have the right to appeal this letter to the Mayor or to the Superior Court of the District of Columbia. If you elect to appeal to the Mayor, your appeal must be in writing and contain "Freedom of Information Act Appeal" or "FOIA Appeal" in the subject line of the letter as well on the outside of the envelope. The appeal must include (1) a copy of the original request; (2) a copy of any written denial; (3) a statement of the circumstances, reasons, and/or arguments advanced in support of disclosure; and (4) a daytime telephone number, and e-mail and/or U.S. Mail address at which you can be reached. The appeal may be submitted online via the DC government Public FOIA Portal. Written appeals may also be mailed to: The Mayor's Office of Legal Counsel, FOIA Appeal; 1350 Pennsylvania Avenue, N.W., Suite 407, Washington, D.C. 20004. Electronic versions of the same information can instead be e-mailed to The Mayor's Office of Legal Counsel at foia.appeals@dc.gov. Further, a copy of all appeal materials must be forwarded to the OCME FOIA Officer. Failure to follow these administrative steps will result in delay in the processing and commencement of a response to your appeal to the Mayor.

If you have any additional questions regarding this request, you may contact me at this email address.

Hello,

I'm reaching out from Forbes. I was directed to you by the D.C. Metropolitan Police Department. I'm wondering how I can get more information on the circumstances around the deaths of Ahli Babbitt, Benjamin Phillips, Kevin Greeson and Rosanne Boyland -- the four protesters dead after Jan. 6 riots.

In particular, I'm wondering if I can get any more information on Ms. Boyland, Mr. Greeson and Mr. Phillips.

I know Mr. Phillips suffered a stroke, but is there any information what caused it?

Mr. Greeson died of a heart attack, but is there any information on what caused it?

There is essentially not public information on Ms. Boyland, though some outlets have reported that she was crushed to death at the rally? Can you offer any details?

There is also lots of chatter on social media that either Mr. Phillips or Greeson died after shocking himself with a taser. I'm looking to get some clarity on all this and put to rest rumors traveling around the internet.

Would appreciate being pointed in the right direction to get ahold of this information.
Best wishes,
Jemima

protesters dead after Jan. 6 riots.

In particular, I'm wondering if I can get any more information on Ms. Boyland, Mr. Greeson and Mr. Phillips.

I know Mr. Phillips suffered a stroke, but is there any information what caused it?

Mr. Greeson died of a heart attack, but is there any information on what caused it?

There is essentially not public information on Ms. Boyland, though some outlets have reported that she was crushed to death at the rally? Can you offer any details?

There is also lots of chatter on social media that either Mr. Phillips or Greeson died after shocking himself with a taser. I'm looking to get some clarity on all this and put to rest rumors traveling around the internet.

Would appreciate being pointed in the right direction to get ahold of this information.
Best wishes,
Jemima

Good afternoon Allison,

OCME medical examiners comply with the National Association of Medical Examiners' (NAME) standard to determine the cause and manner of death within 90 days; however, for cases that are more complex it could be longer. Therefore, when this information is available and the decedent's next of kin has been notified, I will provide you with the cause and manner of death. Additionally, I have added your name to the list to receive the information when it is available.

Best regards,
Cheryle

Subject: FOLLOW UP: FOX INQUIRY: Jan 6 insurrection 4 individuals cause and manner of death release
Date: Wednesday, April 7, 2021 3:35:19 PM

On Wednesday, January 6, 2021 an unprecedented incident of civil insurrection at the United States Capitol resulted in the deaths of five individuals. The District of Columbia Office of the Chief Medical Examiner, Dr. Francisco J. Diaz, MD, FACP, has issued the following determinations as to the cause and manner of death for four of those individuals.

Ashli Babbitt, 35 years old:

- Cause of Death—Gunshot wound to the left anterior shoulder
- Manner of Death—Homicide

Kevin Greeson, 55 years old:

- Cause of Death—Hypertensive atherosclerotic cardiovascular disease
- Manner of Death—Natural

Benjamin Phillips, 50 years old:

- Cause of Death—Hypertensive atherosclerotic cardiovascular disease
- Manner of Death—Natural

Roseanne Boyland, 34 years old:

- Cause of Death—Acute Amphetamine Intoxication
- Manner of Death—Accident

The cause and manner of death for Capitol Police Officer Brian Sicknick are pending.

Background explanation of medical terminology on the cause and manner of death:

As determined by the Chief Medical Examiner, the "cause of death" is the medical disease, injury, alcohol, drug or toxic substance that caused a person's death. The "manner of death" describes the circumstances surrounding a person's death and falls within one of the following categories:

- Accident: Used when there is no evidence of intent; an unintentional, sudden, and unexpected death.
- Homicide: Death results from the intentional harm of one person by another, including actions of grossly reckless behavior.
- Natural: Used when a disease alone causes death. If death is hastened by an injury, the manner of death is not considered natural.
- Suicide: Death results from the purposeful attempt to end one's life.
- Undetermined: Used when there is insufficient information to assign another manner.

On Wednesday, January 6, 2021 an unprecedented incident of civil insurrection at the United States Capitol resulted in the deaths of five individuals. The District of Columbia Office of the Chief Medical Examiner, Dr. Francisco J. Diaz, MD, FACP, has issued the following determinations as to the cause and manner of death for four of those individuals.

Ashli Babbitt, 35 years old:

- Cause of Death—Gunshot wound to the left anterior shoulder
- Manner of Death—Homicide

Kevin Greeson, 55 years old:

- Cause of Death—Hypertensive atherosclerotic cardiovascular disease
- Manner of Death—Natural

Benjamin Phillips, 50 years old:

- Cause of Death—Hypertensive atherosclerotic cardiovascular disease
- Manner of Death—Natural

Roseanne Boyland, 34 years old:

- Cause of Death—Acute Amphetamine Intoxication
- Manner of Death—Accident

The cause and manner of death for Capitol Police Officer Brian Sicknick are pending.

Background explanation of medical terminology on the cause and manner of death:

As determined by the Chief Medical Examiner, the "cause of death" is the medical disease, injury, alcohol, drug or toxic substance that caused a person's death. The "manner of death" describes the circumstances surrounding a person's death and falls within one of the following categories:

- Accident: Used when there is no evidence of intent; an unintentional, sudden, and unexpected death.
- Homicide: Death results from the intentional harm of one person by another, including actions of grossly reckless behavior.
- Natural: Used when a disease alone causes death. If death is hastened by an injury, the manner of death is not considered natural.
- Suicide: Death results from the purposeful attempt to end one's life.
- Undetermined: Used when there is insufficient information to assign another manner.

Hello,

I'm seeing a release of the cause of death for some of those lost on Jan. 6th but I do not see the release on the medical examiner's press release page. Is it available online somewhere? Are you able to send the release to us?

Date: Wednesday, April 7, 2021 4:22:25 PM

Good afternoon Gabriel,

Here is the statement that OCME released today with the exact cause of death:

"On Wednesday, January 6, 2021 an unprecedented incident of civil insurrection at the United States Capitol resulted in the deaths of five individuals. The District of Columbia Office of the Chief Medical Examiner, Dr. Francisco J. Diaz, MD, FACP, has issued the following determinations as to the cause and manner of death for four of those individuals.

Ashli Babbitt, 35 years old:
- Cause of Death—Gunshot wound to the left anterior shoulder
- Manner of Death—Homicide

Kevin Greeson, 55 years old:
- Cause of Death—Hypertensive atherosclerotic cardiovascular disease
- Manner of Death—Natural

Benjamin Phillips, 50 years old:
- Cause of Death—Hypertensive atherosclerotic cardiovascular disease
- Manner of Death—Natural

Roseanne Boyland, 34 years old:
- Cause of Death—Acute Amphetamine Intoxication
- Manner of Death—Accident

The cause and manner of death for Capitol Police Officer Brian Sicknick are pending.

Background explanation of medical terminology on the cause and manner of death:

As determined by the Chief Medical Examiner, the "cause of death" is the medical disease, injury, alcohol, drug or toxic substance that caused a person's death. The "manner of death" describes the circumstances surrounding a person's death and falls within one of the following categories:

- Accident: Used when there is no evidence of intent; an unintentional, sudden, and unexpected death.
- Homicide: Death results from the intentional harm of one person by another, including actions of grossly reckless behavior.
- Natural: Used when a disease alone causes death. If death is hastened by an injury, the manner of death is not considered natural.

- Suicide: Death results from the purposeful attempt to end one's life.
- Undetermined: Used when there is insufficient information to assign another manner.

Dear Cheryle,

This is Gabe with NBC News following up on the new report on the capitol riot deaths.

Can you please help to clarify the exact cause of Ashli Babbitt's death, so we can reflect this accurately?

Her family's lawyer said previously she was shot in the chest, while the report mentions a gunshot wound to her left anterior shoulder.

Does that anatomically include the front of her chest or neck? How exactly did a wound to her shoulder result in her death?

Thank you for any additional details you can provide.

On Wednesday, January 6, 2021 an unprecedented incident of civil insurrection at the United States Capitol resulted in the deaths of five individuals. The District of Columbia Office of the Chief Medical Examiner, Dr. Francisco J. Diaz, MD, FACP, has issued the following determinations as to the cause and manner of death for four of those individuals.

Ashli Babbitt, 35 years old:

- Cause of Death—Gunshot wound to the left anterior shoulder
- Manner of Death—Homicide

Kevin Greeson, 55 years old:

- Cause of Death—Hypertensive atherosclerotic cardiovascular disease
- Manner of Death—Natural

Benjamin Phillips, 50 years old:

- Cause of Death—Hypertensive atherosclerotic cardiovascular disease
- Manner of Death—Natural

Roseanne Boyland, 34 years old:

- Cause of Death—Acute Amphetamine Intoxication
- Manner of Death—Accident

The cause and manner of death for Capitol Police Officer Brian Sicknick are pending.

Background explanation of medical terminology on the cause and manner of death:

As determined by the Chief Medical Examiner, the "cause of death" is the medical disease, injury, alcohol, drug or toxic substance that caused a person's death. The "manner of death" describes the circumstances surrounding a person's death and falls within one of the following categories:

- Accident: Used when there is no evidence of intent; an unintentional, sudden, and unexpected death.
- Homicide: Death results from the intentional harm of one person by another, including actions of grossly reckless behavior.
- Natural: Used when a disease alone causes death. If death is hastened by an injury, the manner of death is not considered natural.
- Suicide: Death results from the purposeful attempt to end one's life.
- Undetermined: Used when there is insufficient information to assign another manner.

Hi Cheryle,

Thanks so much for taking my call this morning. As I mentioned, my colleagues and I are seeking to know whether OCME has custody of the body of Ashli Babbitt. She's formerly Ashli Elizabeth McEntee. If it's also possible to say when OCME took custody of the body that'd be helpful.

Thanks very much,

Jessica

Hi Cheryle,

Thanks so much for taking my call this morning. As I mentioned, my colleagues and I are seeking to know whether OCME has custody of the body of Ashli Babbitt. She's formerly Ashli Elizabeth McEntee. If it's also possible to say when OCME took custody of the body that'd be helpful.

Thanks very much,

Jessica

Hello,

I'm reaching out from Forbes. I was directed to you by the D.C. Metropolitan Police Department. I'm wondering how I can get more information on the circumstances around the deaths of Ahli Babbitt, Benjamin Phillips, Kevin Greeson and Rosanne Boyland -- the four protesters dead after Jan. 6 riots.

In particular, I'm wondering if I can get any more information on Ms. Boyland, Mr. Greeson and Mr. Phillips.

I know Mr. Phillips suffered a stroke, but is there any information what caused it?

Mr. Greeson died of a heart attack, but is there any information on what caused it?

There is essentially not public information on Ms. Boyland, though some outlets have reported that she was crushed to death at the rally? Can you offer any details?

There is also lots of chatter on social media that either Mr. Phillips or Greeson died after shocking himself with a taser. I'm looking to get some clarity on all this and put to rest rumors traveling around the internet.

Would appreciate being pointed in the right direction to get ahold of this information.
Best wishes,
Jemima

What went wrong with the protection of the U.S. Capitol
January 7, 2021
The Washington Post // David Ignatius

D.C. Mayor Muriel E. Bowser (D) and Gen. Mark A. Milley, the chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, both tried to avert a militarization of the response to protests, similar to what happened in D.C. and many other cities during the racial-justice protests that followed George Floyd's death. Wanting to avoid overreaction, they probably underreacted. That carried costs, but also benefits.

The Washington Post // Rebecca Tan, Steve Thompson and Antonio Olivo

Boyland's family did not respond to messages seeking comment. Atlanta TV stations on Thursday night quoted Boyland's brother-in-law, Justin Cave, who blamed Trump for inciting a riot that led to the death of Boyland, who he described as "very passionate about her beliefs." A Facebook page belonging to a Rosanne Boyland in Kennesaw features several pro-Trump posts and includes a false assertion that D.C. Mayor Muriel E. Bowser (D) ordered hotels and other businesses to close in advance of Wednesday's rally.

Mayor Bowser Urges Making DC Statehood Biden's 100-Day Priority
January 7, 2021
The DC Post // Larry Hamilton

Mayor Muriel Bowser said in a statement that DC statehood could become one of the first 100-day priorities for President-elect Joe Biden. Bowser called on the 117th Congress to pass legislation to make the District the nation's 51st state and get it on Biden's desk within the first 100 days. "Washingtonians have waited over 200 years for the representation we deserve as American citizens," the mayor said. "And it is not just the residents of DC who bear the burden of our disenfranchisement. DC Mayor Asks Feds to Cancel Demonstration Permits, Plan Inauguration Security
January 11, 2021
NBC 4 // Mark Segraves

The mayor of Washington, D.C., asked federal officials to cancel permits for demonstrations and plan to protect federal property around Inauguration Day "given the new threats from insurgent acts of domestic terrorists." Mayor Muriel Bowser asked Acting Secretary of Homeland Security Chad Wolf to cancel public gathering permits for the next two weeks, from Jan. 11 to Jan. 24. The request is "essential to demonstrating our collective resolve in ensuring the constitutional transfer of power and our nation's capital," Bowser wrote in a letter Saturday, days after a stunning riot inside the U.S. Capitol Building.

State Capitals Tighten Security Amid Threat Of Armed Protests Ahead Of Inauguration
January 13, 2021
NPR // Greg Allen

That episode, plus the scenes at the U.S. Capitol last week have raised concerns among lawmakers and other elected officials about their own safety. D.C. Mayor Muriel Bowser unveiled a series of measures she wants the federal government to take to step up security leading up to next week's inauguration. At a briefing, she was asked if she was worried about her personal safety.

Pentagon officials report that in the days leading up to the siege, the chief repeatedly assured Congress that his officers could handle the expected crowds. They maintain that the Capitol Police did not ask for D.C. guard backup or request to put in place a riot contingency plan. D.C. Mayor Muriel E. Bowser (D) even urged lighter security for the pro-Trump rally than she had for last summer's protests for racial justice. But when 8,000 pro-Trump demonstrators marched down Pennsylvania Avenue, they overran the Capitol Police's 1,400 officers and entered the Capitol.

The best way to secure the Capitol is to make D.C. a state
January 13, 2021
The Washington Post// Robinson Woodward-Burns

Last week, President Trump incited what was essentially a white nationalist mob to storm the U.S. Capitol. Before the chaos, D.C. Mayor Muriel E. Bowser (D) had asked for a small deployment of D.C. National Guardsman, mainly to control traffic and monitor Metro stations. But when the violence erupted, she joined other local leaders — including Maryland Gov. Larry Hogan (R) and Virginia Gov. Ralph Northam (D) — in asking the Pentagon to deploy more forces, and to change the mission of the D.C. Guard. The Pentagon denied those requests at first, leading to a delay that may have lasted two hours (The exact timing is in dispute). District, Maryland and Virginia Guard troops eventually joined D.C. police officers and the Capitol police by nightfall and belatedly quelled the revolt.

Daily Beast // Pilar Melendez

A Colorado man who allegedly drove to Washington, D.C., and threatened to kill House Speaker Nancy Pelosi also talked about shooting D.C. Mayor Muriel Bowser—and "had the means" to carry out the sinister plot, according to prosecutors. In new court documents, prosecutors allege Cleveland Grover Meredith Jr. had been discussing "wartime" against several lawmakers last Wednesday before thousands of MAGA supporters stormed the Capitol building. Meredith drove to D.C. with a camper full of weapons on Jan. 6 and threatened Pelosi and Bowser in text messages to another individual. "At the time he made these threats, the defendant had the means to carry them out," prosecutors said in a pre-trial detention memo. "Specifically, he was in possession of two firearms, including one equipped with a telescopic sight, several high capacity magazines, and approximately 1,000 rounds of ammunition of various caliber, including 'armor-piercing' rounds. Finally, after arriving in Washington, D.C., the defendant engaged in an act of violence by assaulting a pedestrian, unprovoked, and then fleeing in his vehicle. Given these facts and circumstances, the defendant should remain detained."

The long-running federal court oversight of D.C.'s child welfare system is likely coming to an end after a judge last summer gave preliminary approval to settlement of a lawsuit filed 30 years ago on behalf of children who were victims of abuse or neglect while under the watch of the city government. The likelihood that D.C. may soon be on its own should be impetus for the city to ensure there are sufficient and multiple safeguards in place. Instead, Mayor Muriel E. Bowser (D) has inexplicably — and maddeningly — vetoed legislation that would have helped to strengthen oversight of the agency given the critical job of protecting vulnerable children.

Among the Insurrectionists
January 15, 2021
The New Yorker//Luke Mogelson

The Proud Boys who marched past Fuentes at the end of his December 12th speech were heading to the Washington Monument. When I got there, hundreds of them covered the grassy expanse near the obelisk. "Let's take Black Lives Matter Plaza!" someone suggested. In June, the security fence around the White House had been expanded, subsuming green spaces previously open to the public, in response to protests over the killing of George Floyd, in Minneapolis. Muriel Bowser, the mayor of D.C., had renamed two blocks adjacent to the fence Black Lives Matter Plaza, and commissioned the city to paint "black lives matter" across the pavement in thirty-five-foot-high letters. Throughout the latter half of 2020, Trump had sought to dismiss the popular uprisings that Floyd's death had precipitated by ascribing them to Antifa, which he vilified as a terrorist organization. The Proud Boys had seized on Trump's conflation to recast their small-scale rivalry with antifascists in leftist strongholds like Berkeley and Portland as the front line of a national culture war. During the Presidential campaign, Trump's histrionic exaggerations of the threat posed by Antifa fuelled conservative support for the Proud Boys, allowing them to vastly expand their operations and recruitment. The day after a Presidential debate in which Trump told the Proud Boys to "stand back and stand by," Lauren Witzke, a Republican Senate candidate in Delaware, publicly thanked the group for having provided her with "free security." (She lost the race.)

As states address budget woes due to the pandemic, one place they may turn to for revenue as they have in past economic crises is death taxes. Already the District of Columbia has toughened its estate tax levy, effective January 1, 2021. In August, Mayor Muriel Bowser signed the "Estate Tax Adjustment Act" reducing the exemption from $5.67 million in 2020 to $4 million for individuals who die on or after January 1, 2021. A resident dying in 2021 with a taxable estate of $10 million would owe nearly $1 million in estate tax to D.C.

In the history of the nation's capital, no chief executive has ever had so terrible a relationship with his new home as Mr. Trump, who leaves the city a more broken and battered version of itself.

The president found the District to be a prison, confining him to the White House. His only safe spot was his hotel on Pennsylvania Avenue. Any chance he got, he headed for one of his golf clubs, either in Virginia for daylong road trips, or New Jersey or Florida for longer escapes.

The feeling was mutual. D.C. residents regularly lined up to boo his motorcade and jeer his staff as they braved the streets for a bite to eat.

"He considered it a swamp, and they considered him the swamp creature," said Kevin Chaffee, editor of Washington Life Magazine.

As Mr. Trump departs, his supporters are leaving a parting gift for a city on edge and under siege. Ahead of the inauguration of Joseph R. Biden, the Potomac River is being treated like a moat protecting the District. Although the drawbridges aren't being pulled up, authorities plan to post blockades to deny access from the south.

It's the latest manifestation of the disdain Mr. Trump and the city have long felt for each other.

Subject: Determinations of the Cause and Manner of Death - RE: January 6, 2021

On Wednesday, January 6, 2021 an unprecedented incident of civil insurrection at the United States Capitol resulted in the deaths of five individuals. The District of Columbia Office of the Chief Medical Examiner, Dr. Francisco J. Diaz, MD, FACP, has issued the following determinations as to the cause and manner of death for four of those individuals.

Ashli Babbitt, 35 years old:

- Cause of Death – Gunshot wound to the left anterior shoulder
- Manner of Death – Homicide

Kevin Greeson, 55 years old:

- Cause of Death – Hypertensive atherosclerotic cardiovascular disease
- Manner of Death – Natural

Benjamin Phillips, 50 years old:

- Cause of Death – Hypertensive atherosclerotic cardiovascular disease
- Manner of Death – Natural

Roseanne Boyland, 34 years old:

- Cause of Death – Acute Amphetamine Intoxication
- Manner of Death – Accident

The cause and manner of death for Capitol Police Officer Brian Sicknick are pending.

Obtained via FOIA by Judicial Watch, Inc.

Background explanation of medical terminology on the cause and manner of death:

As determined by the Chief Medical Examiner, the "cause of death" is the medical disease, injury, alcohol, drug or toxic substance that caused a person's death. The "manner of death" describes the circumstances surrounding a person's death and falls within one of the following categories:

- Accident: Used when there is no evidence of intent; an unintentional, sudden, and unexpected death.
- Homicide: Death results from the intentional harm of one person by another, including actions of grossly reckless behavior.
- Natural: Used when a disease alone causes death. If death is hastened by an injury, the manner of death is not considered natural.
- Suicide: Death results from the purposeful attempt to end one's life.
- Undetermined: Used when there is insufficient information to assign another manner.

Dear Mr. George:

This is in response to your request under the Freedom of Information Act (FOIA) for the following:

I am requesting whether or not a Ashli Babbitt was examined by your office on or about 01/06/2021. I would also ask if this office was notified of the above person's death by law enforcement, as well as if anyone in this office can confirm that they conducted a standard investigation that concluded that this person was indeed Ashli Babbitt and that she has been officially declared deceased by any DC Medical Examiner's Office official representative, and the official date, time, and cause of Ms. Babbitt's death. To confirm, Ashli Babbitt confirmation of death by an official DC Medical Examiner's Office Representative that would of been a result of her alleged involvement at the US Capitol Building on January 6, 2021. If no confirmation of Ms. Babbit's death can be confirmed by your office, I would suffice with the mere presence of the person described above and if any investigation of her death by your office. (Date Range for Record Search: From 01/06/2021 To 02/11/2021)

Thank you for your interest in the work of the Office of the Chief Medical Examiner (OCME) for the District of Columbia. The Freedom of Information Act (FOIA) is a process for requesting documents held by a District agency. I interpret your request as not being for any documents. However, I will address your request as if you did make such a request in order to give you some background.

Access to medical examiner records varies widely between jurisdictions. The public policy of the District of Columbia is that all persons are entitled to full and complete information regarding the affairs of government and the official acts of those who represent them as public officials and employees. However, this is tempered by the protection of privacy for individual citizens and their survivors. A mission of the Office of the Chief Medical Examiner (OCME) is to support the families who have suffered a loss. See National Archives and Records Admin. V. Favish, 541 US 157 (2004). Disclosure of personal information, especially medical records, is not permitted under FOIA. DC Code 2-534(a)(2) and 5 USC 552(b)(6). Accordingly, OCME does not release its case files in response to FOIA requests. A direct request to OCME for a case file would need to be accompanied by 1) an authorization of the next of kin for release of information, 2) a subpoena, or 3) a court order. DC Code 5-1412 and 28 DCMR 5000. Therefore, I would decline a request for documents related to a specific decedent.

Turning to your questions, OCME took jurisdiction of Ashli Babbitt's body on 1/6/21 at a hospital to which she had been transported for medical care. An examination was undertaken pursuant to OCME's procedures.

Again, thank you for contacting OCME. If you have any additional questions regarding this request, you may contact me at this email address.

Subject: Forbes media inquiry: how to get more details about the four dead from Capitol riots?

Hello,

I'm reaching out from Forbes. I was directed to you by the D.C. Metropolitan Police Department. I'm wondering how I can get more information on the circumstances around the deaths of Ahli Babbitt, Benjamin Phillips, Kevin Greeson and Rosanne Boyland -- the four protesters dead after Jan. 6 riots.

In particular, I'm wondering if I can get any more information on Ms. Boyland, Mr. Greeson and Mr. Phillips.

I know Mr. Phillips suffered a stroke, but is there any information what caused it?

Mr. Greeson died of a heart attack, but is there any information on what caused it?

There is essentially not public information on Ms. Boyland, though some outlets have reported that she was crushed to death at the rally? Can you offer any details?

Obtained via FOIA by Judicial Watch, Inc.

There is also lots of chatter on social media that either Mr. Phillips or Greeson died after shocking himself with a taser. I'm looking to get some clarity on all this and put to rest rumors traveling around the internet.

Would appreciate being pointed in the right direction to get ahold of this information.
Best wishes,
Jemima

Good afternoon,

I'm an investigative reporter working with the BBC on an in-depth report about January 6. The MPD told me to direct my questions regarding Ashli Babbitt to your office.

- Have you made public the findings of her autopsy report?
- Has her body been returned to her family?

Thank you,
Emmanuelle

Subject: Determinations of the Cause and Manner of Death - RE: January 6, 2021

On Wednesday, January 6, 2021 an unprecedented incident of civil insurrection at the United States Capitol resulted in the deaths of five individuals. The District of Columbia Office of the Chief Medical Examiner, Dr. Francisco J. Diaz, MD, FACP, has issued the following determinations as to the cause and manner of death for four of those individuals.

Ashli Babbitt, 35 years old:

- Cause of Death—Gunshot wound to the left anterior shoulder
- Manner of Death—Homicide

Kevin Greeson, 55 years old:

- Cause of Death—Hypertensive atherosclerotic cardiovascular disease

Obtained via FOIA by Judicial Watch, Inc.

- Manner of Death – Natural

Benjamin Phillips, 50 years old:

- Cause of Death – Hypertensive atherosclerotic cardiovascular disease
- Manner of Death – Natural

Roseanne Boyland, 34 years old:

- Cause of Death – Acute Amphetamine Intoxication
- Manner of Death – Accident

The cause and manner of death for Capitol Police Officer Brian Sicknick are pending.

Background explanation of medical terminology on the cause and manner of death:

As determined by the Chief Medical Examiner, the "cause of death" is the medical disease, injury, alcohol, drug or toxic substance that caused a person's death. The "manner of death" describes the circumstances surrounding a person's death and falls within one of the following categories:

- Accident: Used when there is no evidence of intent; an unintentional, sudden, and unexpected death.
- Homicide: Death results from the intentional harm of one person by another, including actions of grossly reckless behavior.
- Natural: Used when a disease alone causes death. If death is hastened by an injury, the manner of death is not considered natural.
- Suicide: Death results from the purposeful attempt to end one's life.
- Undetermined: Used when there is insufficient information to assign another manner.

Subject: [EXTERNAL] FOLLOW UP: FOX INQUIRY: Jan 6 insurrection 4 individuals cause and manner of death release

On Wednesday, January 6, 2021 an unprecedented incident of civil insurrection at the United States Capitol resulted in the deaths of five individuals. The District of Columbia Office of the Chief Medical Examiner, Dr. Francisco J. Diaz, MD, FACP, has issued the following determinations as to the cause and manner of death for four of those individuals.

Ashli Babbitt, 35 years old:

- Cause of Death—Gunshot wound to the left anterior shoulder
- Manner of Death—Homicide

Kevin Greeson, 55 years old:

- Cause of Death—Hypertensive atherosclerotic cardiovascular disease
- Manner of Death—Natural

Benjamin Phillips, 50 years old:

- Cause of Death—Hypertensive atherosclerotic cardiovascular disease
- Manner of Death—Natural

Roseanne Boyland, 34 years old:

- Cause of Death—Acute Amphetamine Intoxication
- Manner of Death—Accident

The cause and manner of death for Capitol Police Officer Brian Sicknick are pending.

Background explanation of medical terminology on the cause and manner of death:

As determined by the Chief Medical Examiner, the "cause of death" is the medical disease, injury, alcohol, drug or toxic substance that caused a person's death. The "manner of death" describes the circumstances surrounding a person's death and falls within one of the following categories:

- Accident: Used when there is no evidence of intent; an unintentional, sudden, and unexpected death.

Obtained via FOIA by Judicial Watch, Inc.

Homicide: Death results from the intentional harm of one person by another, including actions of grossly reckless behavior.
- Natural: Used when a disease alone causes death. If death is hastened by an injury, the manner of death is not considered natural.
- Suicide: Death results from the purposeful attempt to end one's life.
- Undetermined: Used when there is insufficient information to assign another manner.

Good afternoon,

I'm an investigative reporter working with the BBC on an in-depth report about January 6. The MPD told me to direct my questions regarding Ashli Babbitt to your office.

- Have you made public the findings of her autopsy report?
- Has her body been returned to her family?

Thank you,
Emmanuelle

The cause and manner of death for Capitol Police Officer Brian Sicknick are pending.

Background explanation of medical terminology on the cause and manner of death:

As determined by the Chief Medical Examiner, the "cause of death" is the medical disease, injury, alcohol, drug or toxic substance that caused a person's death. The "manner of death" describes the circumstances surrounding a person's death and falls within one of the following categories:

- Accident: Used when there is no evidence of intent; an unintentional, sudden, and unexpected death.
- Homicide: Death results from the intentional harm of one person by another, including actions of grossly reckless behavior.
- Natural: Used when a disease alone causes death. If death is hastened by an injury, the manner of death is not considered natural.
- Suicide: Death results from the purposeful attempt to end one's life.
- Undetermined: Used when there is insufficient information to assign another manner.

Subject: Determinations of the Cause and Manner of Death - RE: January 6, 2021

On Wednesday, January 6, 2021 an unprecedented incident of civil insurrection at the United States Capitol resulted in the deaths of five individuals. The District of Columbia Office of the Chief Medical Examiner, Dr. Francisco J. Diaz, MD, FACP, has issued the following determinations as to the cause and manner of death for four of those individuals.

Ashli Babbitt, 35 years old:

- Cause of Death – Gunshot wound to the left anterior shoulder
- Manner of Death – Homicide

Obtained via FOIA by Judicial Watch, Inc.

Kevin Greeson, 55 years old:

<!--[if !supportLists]-->• <!--[endif]-->Cause of Death – Hypertensive atherosclerotic cardiovascular disease

<!--[if !supportLists]-->• <!--[endif]-->Manner of Death – Natural

Benjamin Phillips, 50 years old:

<!--[if !supportLists]-->• <!--[endif]-->Cause of Death – Hypertensive atherosclerotic cardiovascular disease

<!--[if !supportLists]-->• <!--[endif]-->Manner of Death – Natural

Roseanne Boyland, 34 years old:

<!--[if !supportLists]-->• <!--[endif]-->Cause of Death – Acute Amphetamine Intoxication

<!--[if !supportLists]-->• <!--[endif]-->Manner of Death – Accident

The cause and manner of death for Capitol Police Officer Brian Sicknick are pending.

Background explanation of medical terminology on the cause and manner of death:

As determined by the Chief Medical Examiner, the "cause of death" is the medical disease, injury, alcohol, drug or toxic substance that caused a person's death. The "manner of death" describes the circumstances surrounding a person's death and falls within one of the following categories:

- Accident: Used when there is no evidence of intent; an unintentional, sudden, and unexpected death.
- Homicide: Death results from the intentional harm of one person by another, including actions of grossly reckless behavior.
- Natural: Used when a disease alone causes death. If death is hastened by an injury, the manner of death is not considered natural.
- Suicide: Death results from the purposeful attempt to end one's life.
- Undetermined: Used when there is insufficient information to assign another manner.

Hello!

Thanks so much. What is "Hypertensive atherosclerotic cardiovascular disease" in layman's terms? Is that a stroke or a heart attack?

Thank you!

Hi Cheryle,

Can you provide information about the delay in cause of death for Officer Sicknick? Can you tell me again what the NAME guidelines are (I believe you said 90 days)? When do you expect to have cause of death?

Good morning,

Officer Brian Sicknick was not on yesterday's list. When can we expect his autopsy results?

Thanks,

Jamie

Subject: Determinations of the Cause and Manner of Death - RE: January 6, 2021

[CAUTION]
This email originated outside Warner Bros.

On Wednesday, January 6, 2021 an unprecedented incident of civil insurrection at the United States Capitol resulted in the deaths of five individuals. The District of Columbia Office of the Chief Medical Examiner, Dr. Francisco J. Diaz, MD, FACP, has issued the following determinations as to the cause and manner of death for four of those individuals.

Ashli Babbitt, 35 years old:

- Cause of Death – Gunshot wound to the left anterior shoulder
- Manner of Death – Homicide

Kevin Greeson, 55 years old:

- Cause of Death – Hypertensive atherosclerotic cardiovascular disease
- Manner of Death – Natural

Benjamin Phillips, 50 years old:

- Cause of Death – Hypertensive atherosclerotic cardiovascular disease
- Manner of Death – Natural

Roseanne Boyland, 34 years old:

- Cause of Death – Acute Amphetamine Intoxication
- Manner of Death – Accident

Obtained via FOIA by Judicial Watch, Inc.

The cause and manner of death for Capitol Police Officer Brian Sicknick are pending.

Background explanation of medical terminology on the cause and manner of death:

As determined by the Chief Medical Examiner, the "cause of death" is the medical disease, injury, alcohol, drug or toxic substance that caused a person's death. The "manner of death" describes the circumstances surrounding a person's death and falls within one of the following categories:

- Accident: Used when there is no evidence of intent; an unintentional, sudden, and unexpected death.
- Homicide: Death results from the intentional harm of one person by another, including actions of grossly reckless behavior.
- Natural: Used when a disease alone causes death. If death is hastened by an injury, the manner of death is not considered natural.
- Suicide: Death results from the purposeful attempt to end one's life.
- Undetermined: Used when there is insufficient information to assign another manner.

Brad,

Thanks for your question. It's a hypothetical at this point as the determinations are in "pending" status while awaiting and evaluating toxicology, consultation reports, medical records, investigation reports, etc. that would normally go into completing a medical examiner inquiry. Such an inquiry routinely takes up to 90 days. The Chief Medical Examiner may issue a statement when the determinations are finalized. Cheryle Adams, our press officer, has you on her list to receive anything that is issued.

Thanks, Rod. I appreciate the thoughtful reply. Does OCME have records that would be less potentially invasive than an autopsy report? (I can see how releasing all of that would raise issues for family members.) For example, is there some other record that would indicate whether Ofc. Sicknick's death was determined to be a homicide or give any indication of what the specific cause was without going into all the other detail?

Brad,

Thanks for your message. I appreciate your perspective and it's not without merit, but OCME has a very resolute position about not releasing an autopsy report unfettered into the public domain. We put ourselves in the shoes of a victim's family who might be confronted with details about their loved one on the front page of a newspaper (or website). The situation is very analogous to medical records. However, by copy of this email, I am asking our Media Relations Specialist, Cheryle Adams, to add you to our email list of reporters who will receive any press releases that the Chief Medical Examiner may have on the deaths related to the Jan 6th riot.

Hi Rod –

I appreciate the prompt reply. Would you have a moment to connect about this? I think there's a very strong public interest favoring disclosure at least when it comes to Ofc. Sicknick, such that the balancing test under (b)(6) would suggest that any invasion of his privacy would not be unwarranted given the rather extraordinary circumstances.

Thanks,

Brad

Subject: Final Response 2021-FOIA-02874

Dear Brad Heath:

This is in response to your request under the Freedom of Information Act (FOIA) for the following:

Please provide me with a complete copy of any records indicating the cause and manner of death for the following people, who died on or about Jan. 6, 2021: * Brian Sicknick * Ashli Babbitt * Kevin Greeson * Rosanne Boyland * Benjamin Philips (Date Range for Record Search: From 01/06/2021 To 02/03/2021)

Access to medical examiner records varies widely between jurisdictions. The public policy of the District of Columbia is that all persons are entitled to full and complete information regarding the affairs of government and the official acts of those who represent them as public officials and employees. However, this is tempered by the protection of privacy for individual citizens and their survivors. A mission of the Office of the Chief Medical Examiner (OCME) is to support the families who have suffered a loss. See National Archives and Records Admin. V. Favish, 541 US 157 (2004). Disclosure of personal information, especially medical records, is not permitted under FOIA. DC Code 2-534(a)(2) and 5 USC 552(b)(6). Accordingly, OCME does not release its case files in response to FOIA requests. A direct request to OCME for a case file would need to be accompanied by 1) an authorization of the next of kin for release of information, 2) a subpoena, or 3) a court order. DC Code 5-1412 and 28 DCMR 5000. Therefore, I must advise you that your request is declined.

Under DC Code 2-537 and 1 DCMR 412, you have the right to appeal this letter to the Mayor or to the Superior Court of the District of Columbia. If you elect to appeal to the Mayor, your appeal must be in writing and contain "Freedom of Information Act Appeal" or "FOIA Appeal" in the subject line of the letter as well on the outside of the envelope. The appeal must include (1) a copy of the original request; (2) a copy of any written denial; (3) a statement of the circumstances, reasons, and/or arguments advanced in support of disclosure; and (4) a daytime telephone number, and e-mail and/or U.S. Mail address at which you can be reached. The appeal may be submitted online via the DC government Public FOIA Portal. Written appeals may also be mailed to: The Mayor's Office of Legal Counsel, FOIA Appeal; 1350 Pennsylvania Avenue, N.W., Suite 407, Washington, D.C. 20004. Electronic versions of the same information can instead be e-mailed to The Mayor's Office of Legal Counsel at foia.appeals@dc.gov. Further, a copy of all appeal materials must be forwarded to the OCME FOIA Officer. Failure to follow these administrative steps will result in delay in the processing and commencement of a response to your appeal to the Mayor.

If you have any additional questions regarding this request, you may contact me at this email address.

Rod Adams

Brad,

Thanks for your message. I appreciate your perspective and it's not without merit, but OCME has a very resolute position about not releasing an autopsy report unfettered into the public domain. We put ourselves in the shoes of a victim's family who might be confronted with details about their loved one on the front page of a newspaper (or website). The situation is very analogous to medical records. However, by copy of this email, I am asking our Media Relations Specialist, Cheryle Adams, to add you to our email list of reporters who will receive any press releases that the Chief Medical Examiner may have on the deaths related to the Jan 6th riot.

Hi Rod –

I appreciate the prompt reply. Would you have a moment to connect about this? I think there's a very strong public interest favoring disclosure at least when it comes to Ofc. Sicknick, such that the balancing test under (b)(6) would suggest that any invasion of his privacy would not be unwarranted given the rather extraordinary circumstances.

Thanks,

Brad

Brad,

Thanks for your question. It's a hypothetical at this point as the determinations are in "pending" status while awaiting and evaluating toxicology, consultation reports, medical records, investigation reports, etc. that would normally go into completing a medical examiner inquiry. Such an inquiry routinely takes up to 90 days. The Chief Medical Examiner may issue a statement when the determinations are finalized. Cheryle Adams, our press officer, has you on her list to receive anything that is issued.

Thanks, Rod. I appreciate the thoughtful reply. Does OCME have records that would be less potentially invasive than an autopsy report? (I can see how releasing all of that would raise issues for family members.) For example, is there some other record that would indicate whether Ofc. Sicknick's death was determined to be a homicide or give any indication of what the specific cause was without going into all the other detail?

On Wednesday, January 6, 2021 an unprecedented incident of civil insurrection at the United States Capitol resulted in the deaths of five individuals. The District of Columbia Office of the Chief Medical Examiner, Dr. Francisco J. Diaz, MD, FACP, has issued the following determinations as to the cause and manner of death for four of those individuals.

Ashli Babbitt, 35 years old:
- Cause of Death – Gunshot wound to the left anterior shoulder
- Manner of Death – Homicide

Kevin Greeson, 55 years old:
- Cause of Death – Hypertensive atherosclerotic cardiovascular disease
- Manner of Death – Natural

Benjamin Phillips, 50 years old:
- Cause of Death – Hypertensive atherosclerotic cardiovascular disease
- Manner of Death – Natural

Roseanne Boyland, 34 years old:
- Cause of Death – Acute Amphetamine Intoxication
- Manner of Death – Accident

The cause and manner of death for Capitol Police Officer Brian Sicknick are pending.

Background explanation of medical terminology on the cause and manner of death:

As determined by the Chief Medical Examiner, the "cause of death" is the medical disease, injury, alcohol, drug or toxic substance that caused a person's death. The "manner of death" describes the circumstances surrounding a person's death and falls within one of the following categories:

- Accident: Used when there is no evidence of intent; an unintentional, sudden, and unexpected death.
- Homicide: Death results from the intentional harm of one person by another, including actions of grossly reckless behavior.
- Natural: Used when a disease alone causes death. If death is hastened by an injury, the manner of death is not considered natural.
- Suicide: Death results from the purposeful attempt to end one's life.
- Undetermined: Used when there is insufficient information to assign another manner.

Good afternoon,

I'm an investigative reporter working with the BBC on an in-depth report about January 6. The MPD told me to direct my questions regarding Ashli Babbitt to your office.

- Have you made public the findings of her autopsy report?
- Has her body been returned to her family?

Thank you,

I appreciate that – this is very far outside my area of expertise. Our readers (and editors) are obviously very interested in this one, so it'd be helpful if we could tell them anything at all about what might make the case complex (outside review? tests that just take a while to finish?). But I realize there are constraints on your ability to provide specifics.

Brad,

Thanks for your question. It's a hypothetical at this point as the determinations are in "pending" status while awaiting and evaluating toxicology, consultation reports, medical records, investigation reports, etc. that would normally go into completing a medical examiner inquiry. Such an inquiry routinely takes up to 90 days. The Chief Medical Examiner may issue a statement when the determinations are finalized. Cheryle Adams, our press officer, has you on her list to receive anything that is issued.

Thanks, Rod. I appreciate the thoughtful reply. Does OCME have records that would be less potentially invasive than an autopsy report? (I can see how releasing all of that would raise issues for family members.) For example, is there some other record that would indicate whether Ofc. Sicknick's death was determined to be a homicide or give any indication of what the specific cause was without going into all the other detail?

Brad,

Thanks for your message. I appreciate your perspective and it's not without merit, but OCME has a very resolute position about not releasing an autopsy report unfettered into the public domain. We put ourselves in the shoes of a victim's family who might be confronted with details about their loved one on the front page of a newspaper (or website). The situation is very analogous to medical records. However, by copy of this email, I am asking our Media Relations Specialist, Cheryle Adams, to add you to our email list of reporters who will receive any press releases that the Chief Medical Examiner may have on the deaths related to the Jan 6th riot.

Hi Rod –

I appreciate the prompt reply. Would you have a moment to connect about this? I think there's a very strong public interest favoring disclosure at least when it comes to Ofc. Sicknick, such that the balancing test under (b)(6) would suggest that any invasion of his privacy would not be unwarranted given the rather extraordinary circumstances.

Thanks,

Accordingly, OCME does not release its case files in response to FOIA requests. A direct request to OCME for a case file would need to be accompanied by 1) an authorization of the next of kin for release of information, 2) a subpoena, or 3) a court order. DC Code 5-1412 and 28 DCMR 5000. Therefore, I must advise you that your request is declined.

Under DC Code 2-537 and 1 DCMR 412, you have the right to appeal this letter to the Mayor or to the Superior Court of the District of Columbia. If you elect to appeal to the Mayor, your appeal must be in writing and contain "Freedom of Information Act Appeal" or "FOIA Appeal" in the subject line of the letter as well on the outside of the envelope. The appeal must include (1) a copy of the original request; (2) a copy of any written denial; (3) a statement of the circumstances, reasons, and/or arguments advanced in support of disclosure; and (4) a daytime telephone number, and e-mail and/or U.S. Mail address at which you can be reached. The appeal may be submitted online via the DC government Public FOIA Portal. Written appeals may also be mailed to: The Mayor's Office of Legal Counsel, FOIA Appeal; 1350 Pennsylvania Avenue, N.W., Suite 407, Washington, D.C. 20004. Electronic versions of the same information can instead be e-mailed to The Mayor's Office of Legal Counsel at foia.appeals@dc.gov. Further, a copy of all appeal materials must be forwarded to the OCME FOIA Officer. Failure to follow these administrative steps will result in delay in the processing and commencement of a response to your appeal to the Mayor.

If you have any additional questions regarding this request, you may contact me at this email address.

Subject: Forbes media inquiry: how to get more details about the four dead from Capitol riots?

Hello,

I'm reaching out from Forbes. I was directed to you by the D.C. Metropolitan Police Department. I'm wondering how I can get more information on the circumstances around the deaths of Ahli Babbitt, Benjamin Phillips, Kevin Greeson and Rosanne Boyland -- the four protesters dead after Jan. 6 riots.

In particular, I'm wondering if I can get any more information on Ms. Boyland, Mr. Greeson and Mr. Phillips.

I know Mr. Phillips suffered a stroke, but is there any information what caused it?

Mr. Greeson died of a heart attack, but is there any information on what caused it?

There is essentially not public information on Ms. Boyland, though some outlets have reported that she was crushed to death at the rally? Can you offer any details?

There is also lots of chatter on social media that either Mr. Phillips or Greeson died after shocking himself with a taser. I'm looking to get some clarity on all this and put to rest rumors traveling around the internet.

Would appreciate being pointed in the right direction to get ahold of this information.
Best wishes,
Jemima

Subject: Forbes media inquiry: how to get more details about the four dead from Capitol riots?

Hello,

I'm reaching out from Forbes. I was directed to you by the D.C. Metropolitan Police Department. I'm wondering how I can get more information on the circumstances around the deaths of Ahli Babbitt, Benjamin Phillips, Kevin Greeson and Rosanne Boyland -- the four protesters dead after Jan. 6 riots.

In particular, I'm wondering if I can get any more information on Ms. Boyland, Mr. Greeson and Mr. Phillips.

I know Mr. Phillips suffered a stroke, but is there any information what caused it?

Mr. Greeson died of a heart attack, but is there any information on what caused it?

There is essentially not public information on Ms. Boyland, though some outlets have reported that she was crushed to death at the rally? Can you offer any details?

Obtained via FOIA by Judicial Watch, Inc.

There is also lots of chatter on social media that either Mr. Phillips or Greeson died after shocking himself with a taser. I'm looking to get some clarity on all this and put to rest rumors traveling around the internet.

Would appreciate being pointed in the right direction to get ahold of this information.
Best wishes,
Jemima

Good afternoon Allison,

OCME medical examiners comply with the National Association of Medical Examiners' (NAME) standard to determine the cause and manner of death within 90 days; however, for cases that are more complex it could be longer. Therefore, when this information is available and the decedent's next of kin has been notified, I will provide you with the cause and manner of death. Additionally, I have added your name to the list to receive the information when it is available.

Best regards,
Cheryle

Good afternoon Allison,

OCME medical examiners comply with the National Association of Medical Examiners' (NAME) standard to determine the cause and manner of death within 90 days; however, for cases that are more complex it could be longer. Therefore, when this information is available and the decedent's next of kin has been notified, I will provide you with the cause and manner of death. Additionally, I have added your name to the list to receive the information when it is available.

Best regards,
Cheryle

Subject: [EXTERNAL] FOLLOW UP: FOX INQUIRY: Jan 6 insurrection 4 individuals cause and manner of death release

On Wednesday, January 6, 2021 an unprecedented incident of civil insurrection at the United States Capitol resulted in the deaths of five individuals. The District of Columbia Office of the Chief Medical Examiner, Dr. Francisco J. Diaz, MD, FACP, has issued the following determinations as to the cause and manner of death for four of those individuals.

Ashli Babbitt, 35 years old:

- Cause of Death—Gunshot wound to the left anterior shoulder
- Manner of Death—Homicide

Kevin Greeson, 55 years old:

- Cause of Death—Hypertensive atherosclerotic cardiovascular disease
- Manner of Death—Natural

Benjamin Phillips, 50 years old:

- Cause of Death—Hypertensive atherosclerotic cardiovascular disease
- Manner of Death—Natural

Obtained via FOIA by Judicial Watch, Inc.

Roseanne Boyland, 34 years old:

- Cause of Death – Acute Amphetamine Intoxication
- Manner of Death – Accident

The cause and manner of death for Capitol Police Officer Brian Sicknick are pending.

Background explanation of medical terminology on the cause and manner of death:

As determined by the Chief Medical Examiner, the "cause of death" is the medical disease, injury, alcohol, drug or toxic substance that caused a person's death. The "manner of death" describes the circumstances surrounding a person's death and falls within one of the following categories:

- Accident: Used when there is no evidence of intent; an unintentional, sudden, and unexpected death.
- Homicide: Death results from the intentional harm of one person by another, including actions of grossly reckless behavior.
- Natural: Used when a disease alone causes death. If death is hastened by an injury, the manner of death is not considered natural.
- Suicide: Death results from the purposeful attempt to end one's life.
- Undetermined: Used when there is insufficient information to assign another manner.

Dear Cheryle,

Thank you for your quick response. This is actually the report that I'm seeking clarification about.

It says Ashli Babbitt's death was caused by a gunshot wound to the left shoulder and I'm just trying to determine more precisely where she was wounded. Was it near her heart? near her neck? Was an artery or major organ damaged?

I'm trying trying to differentiate the official report from the family's account that she was shot in the chest to better understand the cause of death.

Thank you again
Gabe

Dear Cheryle,

This is Gabe with NBC News following up on the new report on the capitol riot deaths.

Can you please help to clarify the exact cause of Ashli Babbitt's death, so we can reflect this accurately?

Her family's lawyer said previously she was shot in the chest, while the report mentions a gunshot wound to her left anterior shoulder.

Does that anatomically include the front of her chest or neck? How exactly did a wound to her shoulder result in her death?

Thank you for any additional details you can provide.

Thanks Cheryle. I chatted briefly w/ Beverly and got confused about the numbers. She said you guys were handling four of the deaths, but my count was five (this is not including the 2nd officer). Any way you can confirm a number?

Cheryle,

Hi there. I was trying to figure out if you guys have any death-investigation information about the following five people who died in the Capitol riots. The names I have are:

Officer Brian Sicknick

Kevin Greeson

Rosanne Boyland

Benjamin Philips

Ashli Babbitt

Subject: Forbes media inquiry: how to get more details about the four dead from Capitol riots?

Hello,

I'm reaching out from Forbes. I was directed to you by the D.C. Metropolitan Police Department. I'm wondering how I can get more information on the circumstances around the deaths of Ashli Babbitt, Benjamin Phillips, Kevin Greeson and Rosanne Boyland -- the four protesters dead after Jan. 6 riots.

In particular, I'm wondering if I can get any more information on Ms. Boyland, Mr. Greeson and Mr. Phillips.

I know Mr. Phillips suffered a stroke, but is there any information what caused it?

Mr. Greeson died of a heart attack, but is there any information on what caused it?

There is essentially not public information on Ms. Boyland, though some outlets have reported that she was crushed to death at the rally? Can you offer any details?

There is also lots of chatter on social media that either Mr. Phillips or Greeson died after shocking himself with a taser. I'm looking to get some clarity on all this and put to rest rumors traveling around the internet.

Would appreciate being pointed in the right direction to get ahold of this information.
Best wishes,
Jemima

Chief Steven Sund,
Ashli Elizabeth Babbitt's body is lying in repose in a mortuary cooler at the Office of the Chief Medical Examiner, hence, will you coordinate with the staff to contact Ashli's family in San Diego??

Chief Steven Sund,
Ashli Elizabeth Babbitt's body is lying in repose in a mortuary cooler at the Office of the Chief Medical Examiner, hence, will you coordinate with the staff to contact Ashli's family in San Diego??

Subject: Forbes media inquiry: how to get more details about the four dead from Capitol riots?

Hello,

I'm reaching out from Forbes. I was directed to you by the D.C. Metropolitan Police Department. I'm wondering how I can get more information on the circumstances around the deaths of Ahli Babbitt, Benjamin Phillips, Kevin Greeson and Rosanne Boyland -- the four protesters dead after Jan. 6 riots.

In particular, I'm wondering if I can get any more information on Ms. Boyland, Mr. Greeson and Mr. Phillips.

Obtained via FOIA by Judicial Watch, Inc.

I know Mr. Phillips suffered a stroke, but is there any information what caused it?

Mr. Greeson died of a heart attack, but is there any information on what caused it?

There is essentially not public information on Ms. Boyland, though some outlets have reported that she was crushed to death at the rally? Can you offer any details?

There is also lots of chatter on social media that either Mr. Phillips or Greeson died after shocking himself with a taser. I'm looking to get some clarity on all this and put to rest rumors traveling around the internet.

Would appreciate being pointed in the right direction to get ahold of this information.
Best wishes,
Jemima

Good afternoon Dr. Diaz and Beverly,

Please find attached the Excel spreadsheet (I have alphabetized the data by media outlet—column B) that provides the contact information for the reporters that have requested the cause and manner of death for the decedents from the January 6, 2021 Insurrection at the Capitol. Today, I have checked the cause and manner of death status of the decedents and the cause and manner of death are still pending. Therefore, I am providing you with the most current information to date (for awareness purposes) and once the cause and manner of death are ready for release for all the decedents, I will follow up with you regarding next steps in releasing this information. Please let me know if you should have any questions.

Importance: High

Obtained via FOIA by Judicial Watch, Inc.

THIS WAS APPROVED TO GO OUT – USE AS PRESENTED BELOW:

On Wednesday, January 6, 2021 an unprecedented incident of civil insurrection at the United States Capitol resulted in the deaths of five individuals. The District of Columbia Office of the Chief Medical Examiner, Dr. Francisco J. Diaz, MD, FACP, has issued the following determinations as to the cause and manner of death for four of those individuals.

Ashli Babbitt, 35 years old:
- Cause of Death—Gunshot wound to the left anterior shoulder
- Manner of Death—Homicide

Kevin Greeson, 55 years old:
- Cause of Death—Hypertensive atherosclerotic cardiovascular disease
- Manner of Death—Natural

Benjamin Phillips, 50 years old:
- Cause of Death—Hypertensive atherosclerotic cardiovascular disease
- Manner of Death—Natural

Roseanne Boyland, 34 years old:
- Cause of Death—Acute Amphetamine Intoxication
- Manner of Death—Accident

The cause and manner of death for Capitol Police Officer Brian Sicknick are pending.

Background explanation of medical terminology on the cause and manner of death:

As determined by the Chief Medical Examiner, the "cause of death" is the medical disease, injury, alcohol, drug or toxic substance that caused a person's death. The "manner of death" describes the circumstances surrounding a person's death and falls within one of the following categories:

- Accident: Used when there is no evidence of intent; an unintentional, sudden, and unexpected death.
- Homicide: Death results from the intentional harm of one person by another, including actions of grossly reckless behavior.
- Natural: Used when a disease alone causes death. If death is hastened by an injury, the manner of death is not considered natural.
- Suicide: Death results from the purposeful attempt to end one's life.
- Undetermined: Used when there is insufficient information to assign another manner.

Subject: Determinations of the Cause and Manner of Death - RE: January 6, 2021

On Wednesday, January 6, 2021 an unprecedented incident of civil insurrection at the United States Capitol resulted in the deaths of five individuals. The District of Columbia Office of the Chief Medical Examiner, Dr. Francisco J. Diaz, MD, FACP, has issued the following determinations as to the cause and manner of death for four of those individuals.

Ashli Babbitt, 35 years old:

- Cause of Death—Gunshot wound to the left anterior shoulder

FOIA by Judicia

Obtained via FOIA by Judicial Watch, Inc.

- Manner of Death—Homicide

Kevin Greeson, 55 years old:

- Cause of Death—Hypertensive atherosclerotic cardiovascular disease
- Manner of Death—Natural

Benjamin Phillips, 50 years old:

- Cause of Death—Hypertensive atherosclerotic cardiovascular disease
- Manner of Death—Natural

Roseanne Boyland, 34 years old:

- Cause of Death—Acute Amphetamine Intoxication
- Manner of Death—Accident

The cause and manner of death for Capitol Police Officer Brian Sicknick are pending.

Background explanation of medical terminology on the cause and manner of death:

As determined by the Chief Medical Examiner, the "cause of death" is the medical disease, injury, alcohol, drug or toxic substance that caused a person's death. The "manner of death" describes the circumstances surrounding a person's death and falls within one of the following categories:

- Accident: Used when there is no evidence of intent; an unintentional, sudden, and unexpected death.
- Homicide: Death results from the intentional harm of one person by another, including actions of grossly reckless behavior.
- Natural: Used when a disease alone causes death. If death is hastened by an injury, the manner of death is not considered natural.
- Suicide: Death results from the purposeful attempt to end one's life.
- Undetermined: Used when there is insufficient information to assign another manner.

To learn more about the Office of the Chief Medical Examiner or cause and manner investigations in the District, visit ocme.dc.gov.
